Bar Rice's dual role

A hearing is set for 9:30 a.m. Friday in Edwardsville to determine if a temporary restraining order now freezing the funds of the Metro-East Sanitary District should be made permanent.

Associate Judge Philip Barick, who will hear the arguments, held a hearing yesterday afternoon on a motion by St. Clair County trustees of the sanitary district to dismiss the pending temporary restraining order, but dismissed the hearing when it was determined that Robert Rice, attorney for the St. Clair County trustees on the sanitary district, may not be legally able to represent the board.

Attorney John Papa of Granite City spoke on behalf of the Madison County trustees on the sanitary district board and questioned Rice's ability to represent the sanitary district, since he is the attorney in a pending lawsuit against the district.

Rice, former St. Clair County state's attorney, is representing trustee Robert Eastern whose suit to keep his seat on the sanitary board now is in the Illinois Supreme Court.

Lack of a court decision has resulted in a board makeup with three Madison County trustees and three St. Clair County trustees, so most issues involving the interests of either county result in tie votes. The law creating the district calls for a five-member board.

Rice had intended to argue in court yesterday that the temporary restraining order should be dismissed because no real emergency exists. When Papa challenged his authority to represent the board, Rice was not given the opportunity to present his arguments.

Barick issued the temporary restraining order last week when it was contended that the 3-3 deadlock on the board was resulting in Madison County

Volunteers are honored

Five Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville students were commended this week by Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, as a highlight of the campus observance of National Volunteer Week, "emphasizing the importance of volunteer work in American society."

Patricia Barton of Granite City, Bonnie Sturm of Edwardsville, John Tedrick of Wood River, Lisa Lorenz of Belleville and Paul Saboff of Edwardsville were honored as outstanding volunteers by the Community Involvement Project and were presented with citations by representatives of community service agencies and nursing homes they served.

Ricco's II gone

The liquor licenses of Ricco's II Lounge, 3675 Nameoki Road, and the Upper Level Lounge, 18th and State streets, expired at midnight Monday and neither tavern is expected to reopen, according to Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, the city's liquor license commissioner.

Schuler had pledged neither lounge's liquor license would be renewed as the result of fights, stabbings, disturbances and other incidents in the vicinity of both, and a fatality near Ricco's II. Fire destroyed the Upper Level in March and it was not rebuilt, but the liquor license was active until Monday night.

Ricco's II continued operations until its license expired and police reported that the license had been renewed.

Schuler said neither of the license holders applied for renewal. New liquor licenses went into effect Tuesday morning.

Schuler also announced this week that the Long Branch Tavern, Grand Avenue at Niedringhaus Avenue, has been closed for 30 days due to a recent gambling raid. The suspension will run through May 22.

GC curriculum post to Collins

After extensive interviews and discussion, the Granite City Board of Education voted unanimously Tuesday night to name Logan Grade School Principal Warren Collins as the new curriculum coordinator of the school system, succeeding Owen Humphrey, who is retiring.

With Washington one of three elementary schools being closed after the 1978-79 school year, Principal Fred Noth of that school will transfer to Collins' post at Logan.

Gary Pfroeder, principal of soon-to-be-closed McKinley School, was chosen as principal of Frohardt, where Lee Reid is retiring. Stallings' Edward Blazek, principal of the third school being closed, will be reassigned as a teacher.

To replace Steve Jones, also retiring, Fred P. "Pat" Schuman Jr. will become an assistant principal of Granite City High School South.

Replacing Schuman as a Grigsby Junior High School assistant principal will be Nancy Marti, who is the Washington School physical education instructor.

Going to Coolidge Junior High as assistant principal, replacing the retiring Richard Yates, will be Gordon Galbreath, the school system's audiovisual coordinator.

Authorization was given to negotiate with Belleville Area College for BAC to lease Washington School as a daytime center for the Quad-City area.

A one-year lease is planned, with a long-term agreement to be considered later, after it is determined whether the college center will attract an adequate enrollment.

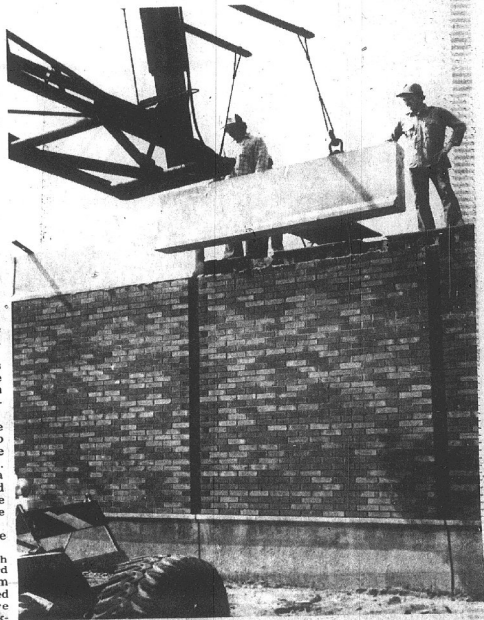

Appraisals are to be obtained of the schools to be placed on sale.

Accepting $20,000 secured through the GCHS North Boosters, the board voted to convert the North gymnasium for broader use for spectator-attended athletic events, including more bleacher seating and basketball backboards.

The gym floor will be refinished and painted, with pegg added in loose boards. Source of the funds is municipal-federal revenue sharing.

Revenue hearing lists $70,000 for improvements at two high schools

The question of whether Granite City Township can legally expend $70,000 to help equip Granite City high schools was raised by First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas during Tuesday night's Granite City Council meeting.

Douglas noted that the township's proposed revenue sharing budget includes $50,000 to help fund lights for the Fehling Road soccer and baseball fields at Granite City High School South and $20,000 for gymnasium improvements at Granite City High School North.

The alderman, who is an attorney, stated, "I question whether the town board (which is the city council since the township and city boundaries are identical) can make purchases for the school board."

Douglas said he intends to ask the question at the public hearing on the revenue sharing budget and he was reminded that the hearing was held one hour before the city council meeting at which he was speaking.

Only Township Attorney William Schooley and City Clerk Robert W. Stevens were present at the public hearing, although it had been announced publicly.

Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer told Douglas that revenue sharing can legally be used for recreational purposes.

"The money is not going to the school district. It is for the recreation of our youth," Hagnauer added.

"North never used its gymnasium for events because it never had seating facilities. This will be for the recreational purposes of the children who go to school there," Hagnauer said.

He added that the township's revenue sharing funds have been used for years to aid the senior citizens, including the construction of a township building where they could meet. "It is fortunate we can use money now to help the young people of our community. Get some of them off the street and out there at the school complex," Hagnauer added.

Douglas said he feels both expenditures would be "for good projects," but added, "I just wonder if the township should be bailing out the school district."

Mayor Paul Schuler then suggested that Douglas meet with the township attorney to discuss the question "and

Hospice fund drive

Plans to begin operation of Hospice of Madison County in June were announced at yesterday's Granite City Rotary prayer breakfast, where Dr. Shabbir Safdar founder, said financial contributions will be sought from businesses and organizations.

Yearly budget of the program for care of the terminally ill is estimated to cost $60,000. At some early time, insurance firms are expected to begin partially funding such care, but there may be a year or two before the program becomes self-sustaining, Dr. Safdar said.

Principal costs are expected to be the salaries of a full-time coordinator and nurse. Other personnel will be used on a part-time basis, and there will be heavy reliance on volunteer helpers.

About five patients are to be included initially, and eventually about 50 to 60 are to be accepted annually.

Those unable to pay will be accepted as well as those able to pay the costs, which are expected to be well below the cost of hospital stays involving acute care and extensive tests.

Hospice seeks to neither prolong nor shorten life, but to make it as pain-free and happy as possible for patients, who either remain in their homes, with the aid of visits by doctors, nurses and "sitters," or temporarily stay in special hospital rooms whose accommodations and rules are home-like.

The speaker gave the following explanation of the hospice plan:

Hospice is the management of terminal disease in such a way that people are able to live until they die, and their families are able to live with them as they are dying — and go on living afterward.

"Hospice" was originally a medieval

Mrs. Webster, 51, dies

Mrs. Georgia Craig Webster, 51, of Hesperia, Calif., formerly of Madison, died at her home following an apparent heart attack Saturday, April 28.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at a funeral home in Hesperia. Mrs. Webster had been in ill health with a heart ailment for some time and had a pacemaker unit installed to aid her about one month ago, a family member said.

She was carrying some trash to a container outside her home when stricken, it was learned.

Mrs. Webster was a licensed practical nurse and was employed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for about three or four years while residing in Madison. Since moving to California 10 years ago, she had been a resident manager of an apartment building.

Mrs. Webster was born in Haiti, Mo. Surviving are her husband, Thomas "Tommy" Webster; three daughters, Mrs. Jo Ann Hisaw of Granite City, Mrs. Judy Vaughn of Hesperia and Debbie Craig of Gilbert, Ariz.; two sons, Tommy and Jeffrey Craig, both of Gilbert, Ariz.; four brothers and two sisters; two granddaughters, Judy and Kathryn Cole, both of Granite City; and a great-granddaughter, Christine Lynn Allen of Granite City.

Schlemer buys new realty office

Walt Schlemer, president of Walt Schlemer Realty and Insurance has announced the purchase of the Al Weatherly Realty 1 office at 401 St. Louis Road, Collinsville. Weatherly will remain with the Schlemer Co. as a broker manager of the Collinsville office.

Schlemer now operates three realty offices, one residential office, one commercial office and an insurance agency in the Madison County area. He is also treasurer of a real estate franchise, Realty 1, with 60 offices operating in central and southern Illinois.

Last year, he served as state president of the 32,000-member Illinois Association of Realtors and he is now serving as a national director of the National Association of Realtors.

FIRST TICKET for the house tour from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. on Sunday is purchased by Granite City Mayor Paul Schulz, left, from Mrs. Sally Mathis, chairman of the tour sponsored by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society.

Ill. Power to mark 100th year of the electric light

Thomas Edison's life and legacy will be spotlighted this year by Illinois Power Company and others as the 100th anniversary of the electric light approaches.

John T. Cunningham, a historian, has reviewed Edison's accomplishments for the International Centennial of Light, commemorating Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp on Oct. 21, 1879, and the resulting improvements in mankind's quality of life.

In an essay titled "They called him 'wizard,'" Cunningham comments:

Seldom given to unlimited praise, much less exaggeration, the Scientific American in December 1878 spotlighted the emerging myth of Thomas Alva Edison by unabashedly hailing him as "one of the wonders of the world" as well as "the greatest inventor of the age."

Edison then was only 31 years old, a largely self-taught ex-telegrapher; a man of few social graces, and an inventor whose genuine greatness still lay well in his future.

He headed a small research laboratory in an obscure town called Menlo Park, N.J. Yet, in 1878 his fame already was echoing around the world.

The ecstatic praise of the Scientific American and other leading publications stemmed largely from a single invention — the phonograph.

Journalists flocked to Menlo Park and left to write sensational stories of "the New Jersey Columbus" or, in the nickname that stuck, "the Wizard of Menlo Park."

Edison was good copy.

Myths and legends thereafter followed Edison all of his days, many of them started by himself, for he was often something of a clown in the presence of the public and usually a colorful boaster in front of the press.

His "official" biographies, some endorsed by himself, picked up the legends and expanded them.

In time, it became nearly impossible to separate fact from fiction in Edison's personal life.

Edison himself scoffed at the name "wizard," preferring to treat listeners with such homilies as "invention as one percent, inspiration and 99 percent perspiration" or "there is no expedient to which man will not resort to avoid the real labor of thinking."

Even as he uttered such bromides, he tried to make himself more mysterious through commonplace legends concerning his own past.

The years have so entwined the real Edison with the mythical "wizard" that he often emerges as less than he would in a straight recounting of his contributions to the world. Fiction pales beside Edison's actuality.

Thomas Edison was the inventor of the phonograph. He was the man who perfected the electric lamp and devised much of the means of generating and distributing electrical power.

He became the dominant name in motion pictures. His 1,083 patents ranged from the storage battery to scores of telegraphic improvements; from a "writing pen" to a magnetic ore separator; from a "talking" doll to dozens of improvements on the telephone.

If Edison could be measured only in terms of contributions to the economy and to life styles, consider a world without the electric lamp, practical electric power, the phonograph (or sound recording), the movies, radio, television and, by extension, TV commercials.

Linking radio and television to Edison is not just another far-fetched invention of Edison worshippers. Early in his 1879 experiments with filaments for a practical incandescent lamp, Edison noticed the strange phenomenon of current being transmitted through space without wires.

He called it "the etheric force" and, without knowing it, had discovered the forerunner of what would become radio and TV transmission.

The myths endure — that he had only a few weeks of schooling, that he became deaf when an irate employer pulled his ears, that he seldom slept.

Edison was careful to see that few persons ever really knew him in his lifetime; it is not strange that for decades he has been buried under layers of near-fiction.

Few biographies have been written about Edison, despite his contributions to the world.

Each new biographer dutifully records that he has looked "for the first time" at Edison's vast legacy of papers. In truth, no one has ever looked at all of Edison's papers and other artifacts.

A recent survey showed that there are millions of pages of Edison materials available around the nation. A project currently is under way to sort that vast store of Edisonia.

It is conservatively estimated that it will take at least 20 years and $5 million to bring order out of the mass of material.

Perhaps, by the year 2000 or so, the real Edison will emerge. And perhaps then the nation's academicians and scholars finally will pay attention to this giant of an inventor.

Few scholars have ever bothered with Edison, possibly because in life Edison flaunted his own lack of formal training in front of the academic community at every opportunity.

Thomas Edison needs to be separated from the legends, so many of which number among his own unpatented inventions.

Few men have affected the world more — in science, in invention, in the performing arts, in the electronic media, in the movies, in the preservation of beautiful sounds, in the advancement of education.

The problem may be that Edison is almost too big for any book or any movie, much less a Ph.D. thesis.

Perhaps television could do so, as it so effectively chronicled the Adams family saga. However, no in-depth treatment is in prospect for the life and legacy of the man who made TV possible.

Edison; man or myth? He would laugh at the question, for he always was much enjoyed being both, Cunningham concludes.

$25 inspection fee for sewer tap-ons

The Madison County Special Sewer Committee voted last week to have a $25 inspection fee for home tap-ons to the new sanitary sewers being constructed in Nameoki, Chouteau and Vane Township. It is yet to be determined who will conduct the inspections.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, a precinct committeeman from Nameoki Township, told the committee she has proof that Blue Spruce Court qualifies for sewers, since it is a part of the Morrison Estates Subdivision and that subdivision was more than two-thirds complete when the sewer plans were approved as required by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

She also said she has evidence, taken from county and township records, that sewers for Blue Spruce Court are shown on the sewer plans approved by the EPA, and should be built, since they are a part of the state and federal grant.

Chairman Louis Whitsell said, "You don't know what you are talking about," and asked Mrs. Hawkins to stay out of the matter, because the problem is on the "border line" of being solved.

Whitsell said the committee plans to apply for an amendment to the EPA grant to help fund sewers for Blue Spruce Court.

Hawkins contended an amendment isn't needed because original plans for the project, approved by the EPA, show an eight-inch line on the south side of Blue Spruce Court. "You already have a plan to build sewers there," she said.

The committee decided to publish specifications homeowners will need for sewer tap-ons to properly match the new sanitary sewers.

Mrs. Jean Zaring, 2604 Angela Drive, complained that her property is being used as a "freeway" for sewer construction and she needs a lawyer to see her easement for its use. She said she contacted the sewer officials and was told she needed a lawyer to see her easement. She objected at the meeting and Engineer Ed Jundson said he would mail her a copy.

She gave easement only for the back of the house, but most of her yard is being used, she said.

Ron Burton of Blue Spruce Court also expressed concern that much of his property is being used, while he gave only a limited easement.

Committee members said the contractor sometimes needs more space for the dumping of dirt and mixing of equipment to install the sewers.

The Spinal Column

By DR. RICHARD C. REINHARDT

DO YOU NEED CHIROPRACTIC CARE?

Everyone needs Chiropractic care, yes, everyone. There are three classes of potential patients.

The patient that is in acute pain relates very easily to Chiropractic care. This patient usually makes a quick recovery unless there is a history of back troubles. Remember, pain is the last factor to appear in any disease process. It is also the first factor to clear out.

The patient with a long standing chronic problem by far represents the majority of our patients. Correction takes place very slowly due to the long time involved with the problem. Progress is usually slow but steady. Patience from both the Doctor and patient is very important. Frequent examinations to show progress is important since it is easy to become discouraged.

The rest of the population falls into this third group. Usually there are no symptoms present or they come and go, or the patient is a little stiff in the morning, or he gets a bit of breath easily, etc. He tells himself that it will go away, that it's nothing to worry about.

Symptoms are important. They do not go away by themselves. They are indicators that something is wrong. Yes, everyone should have a complete spinal examination at least twice a year!

Miss Frances Topal dies after being injured in fall

Miss Frances Margaret Topal, 53, of 31 Garesche Homes, Madison, died at 12:43 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was taken by ambulance from home one hour earlier.

Miss Topal, who was confined to a wheelchair, had suffered a fall from a halted auto about 11 a.m. Tuesday and was treated at the Granite City hospital for a fracture of the left leg.

According to Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell, Miss Topal was released from St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 2:10 p.m. Tuesday and returned home.

About 11:30 p.m., she became ill, suffering a shortness of breath, and went to the hospital by ambulance.

For about 45 minutes efforts were made to revive her, but Miss Topal failed to respond, it was learned.

Mizell said an inquest will be held.

Miss Topal was born in Granite City and had resided her entire life in Madison. She was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison and the church's Legion of Mary.

Miss Topal was preceded in death by her parents, George and Theresa Topal, and a brother, Albert V. Topal.

MISS FRANCES TOPAL

Surviving are a brother, George L. Topal Sr., of Madison; six sisters, Mrs. John (Stella T.) Mucho, Mrs. Michael (Ann H.) Barry and Mrs. Samuel (Kathryn A.) Clark, all of Granite City, and Mrs. Louise Hildreth, Mrs. Rose M. Varady and Mrs. Steve (Mary A.) Bucherich, all of Madison; several nephews and nieces.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Granite City police have impounded a diesel truck and were holding two Collinsville men today for investigation after one man alleged a truck he saw at the Granite City Steel gate at 16th Street and Madison Avenue had been stolen from him in Fenton, Mo., about two months ago.

Will Brownlee, Kirkwood, Mo., said he and his wife were driving through Granite City when they saw a diesel truck he believed had been stolen from him.

Brownlee notified police, who confronted the driver with the accusation. The driver said the truck belonged to a Collinsville trucking firm and he requested that his boss come to Granite City to help straighten out the matter.

Police said the boss told them a man left the truck with the company for repairs and never returned to get it, so the company began using it.

It is suspected that the truck had altered serial number plates on it and the license plates may be issued to another truck, investigators said.

The driver was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and failure to have a firearm owner's identification card after he produced a pistol from his boot and gave it to officers.

Railroad hearing delayed

An Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing scheduled for today in Madison, on the condition of the railroad crossings located in Madison, has been rescheduled for Thursday, May 31, at 1 p.m. in the Madison City Hall.

Madison City Attorney Casper Nighohossian informed the city council during the Tuesday evening meeting that the ICC approved the change of date at the request of the Illinois Terminal Railroad. Madison Mayor Mike Sasysk and the council have been trying to get the railroad to repair, on a permanent basis, the crossings at State Street, Grand and Madison avenues, plus Iowa Street and Washington Avenue.

The council approved the city entering into a suit with other local governments against the Metro East Sanitary District.

Sasysk said, "Madison County pays about $1 million and St. Clair County pays only about $600,000; yet we only get back about 18 percent of the services. This is just not fair. The only way I can see to solve the problem is to have two separate districts."

The council went on record against a proposed telephone increase and authorized Mayor Sasysk and City Attorney Casper Nighohossian to voice the objections at a hearing with the Illinois Commerce Commission in Chicago at 10 a.m. on Monday, May 21.

"What I am concerned about is the fact that the telephone company would raise the phone lines into the police station from our burglar alarms to about $22. The lines are now costing $9.20," the mayor said.

"It appears that cable television will be coming to this area and I would like to appoint an aldermanic Cable TV committee to look into this and report back to the council. I would like the following to serve on this committee: Aldermen

Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon asked if the alley between Kennedy and Elizabeth streets is on the schedule to be asphalted this summer and was informed by Mayor Sasysk it is.

The council approved Madison Junior Service club solicitation on Friday for the Eagle Scouts honored at recognition banquet

Twenty young men were honored Monday evening for achieving the coveted rank of Eagle Scout.

A special recognition dinner, attended by 107 parents, scout officials and local dignitaries was held at the Missouri Athletic Club. Roger Higgins, advancement chairman for the Cahokia Mound Council, served as master-of-ceremonies.

The new Eagle Scouts honored are: Matthew Anderson, John Ansley, Michael Ansley, Richard Brown, David Digirdano, James Down and William Elliot.

Brian France, Russell Glenn, Gregg Grimaud, Phillip Keating, Carl Kerkemeyer, Michael Mercer, Kent Monical and Jeffrey Paul.

Prior to the buffet dinner G. H. Sternberg gave the invocation.

Each of the new Eagle Scouts was then introduced by his sponsor at the dinner. The sponsor gave a brief background on the Eagle and introduced the youth's parents.

The mother of each scout was presented with a rose and the Eagle was presented with a flag set.

Bill Winter Jr., who earned his Eagle Award in 1977, issued a challenge to the 1978-79 class. The challenge called on the new Eagles to continue to uphold the honor of the award and to continue to serve others as they strive for a better community and world.

The challenge was accepted, on behalf of all the new Eagle Scouts, by William Elliott.

Leo Schermer, president of the Cahokia Mound Council and an Eagle Scout, then spoke to the group, outlining Eagle reeducation ideals.

Schermer asked the new Eagles to continue to serve others through Scouting during their lifetime; to become active in the political and civic life of their communities; and to investigate the opportunities offered them in the Explorer program.

"Our council has one of the finest Explorer programs in the country. There are numerous career and hobby interest posts now functioning and there are several new ones being organized. I urge you to participate in Exploring," Schermer emphasized.

Former U. S. congressman for the 12th District of Missouri Thomas B. Curtis was the guest speaker.

Curtis is an Eagle Scout, was awarded the Distinguished Eagle Award in 1971 and holds the Silver Beaver award in scouting. The speaker referred to young people as the greatest natural resource this country has. He and other speakers complimented the individuals, families and council on the caliber of the young men and predicted that the nation will be in good hands as the Eagle Scouts assume increasing responsibilities in their communities and region.

Sternberg introduced and thanked the speaker and offered the benediction. White and Shane are members of Troop Five, whose scoutmaster is Pat Busch. Mercer, Monical and Taylor are in Troop 102, whose unit leader is Council Executive William Monical.

Brown is in Troop 41, led by Kenneth Clark, and Down is in Troop 22, led by Norman Draper.

Sponsors were G. Rollin Henn, Robert Moske, W. F. Strang, Henry D. Karand, Jeff. Reg. Mennerick, Sternberg, Allen Jesse, Alex Tarpoff Jr., Schermer, Ron Luebben, J. R. Shanks, Thomas Mlofsky, Chester York, Leroy Stark, Paul Tucker, Leslie Becker, Richard Kerch, Louis Boka, Paul Earnhart, Craig Whjeeler and Richard Sussenbach.

Communication by couples is to be discussed

Couples communication will be the topic discussed at a "Women's Awareness" meeting Monday, May 7, at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

The meeting is open to all women in the local area and will last from 7 to 9 p.m. at the "Y", 2001 Edison Ave. Speaking at the meeting will be Ruth Cohen, program director, and Dyanne Pienkowski, project director of the AID group in Collinsville. Both women have master degrees in counseling. Miss Cohen also has a master degree in social work.

"Women's Awareness" meets weekly at the Tri-City Area "Y", Lucy Tueth, 676-7200, reports.

Arrest man wounded in shooting

William L. Mosier, 48, of 2102 Bryan Ave., was charged with disorderly conduct after he was shot in the left leg and hip during a disturbance at the home of his brother-in-law, Jerry Jones, 2507 W. 24th St., at 8:50 p.m. Monday.

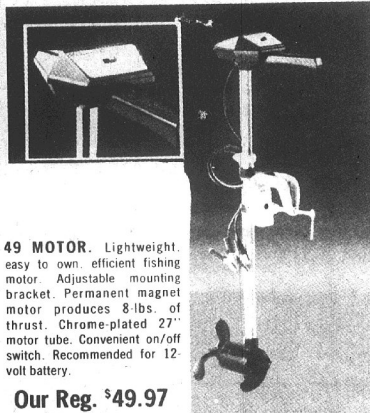

Jones alleged Mosier came to his home, entered without permission and argued with Jones. He reported Mosier then displayed a wooden club and threatened him, so Jones got his 12-gauge shotgun and fired three shots, one striking Mosier in the left hip and leg, according to official reports.

When police arrived, Mosier refused to be taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, the officers reported. Police held Jones' gun for evidence. No charges were filed against Jones.

Mosier later went to the medical center where he was treated for buckshot wounds and he was released to police, who also served a warrant on him alleging failure to appear in court on a previous allegation of battery.

25-year-old anti-discrimination court ruling hailed as momentous

Following are the introductory remarks presented Wednesday by S.E. Vice President and Provost Earl E. Lazerson at the opening session of the Conference on Brown vs. Board of Education, held in the University Center.

It is a pleasure to welcome you on this special occasion, a commemoration of the 25th anniversary of perhaps the single most momentous and far-reaching event in modern American life.

The decision in Brown vs. Board of Education barred segregation in the public schools by racial classification. In its effect, the decree of the U.S. Supreme Court became the spearhead of a direct assault on racial discrimination in virtually all aspects of American society.

By establishing equalitarianism in public education through judicial mandate, the Court encouraged other minorities to seek equal treatment, and the action of the Court served as a springboard for attacks on forms of discrimination based on sex, age, and other social classifications.

The Brown decision set the tone for a period of judicial activism which has become firmly fixed in our history as the era of the Warren Court.

With regard to the cherished principle of the separation of powers, it is technically significant that the cornerstone of that era, the decision itself, was not an innovation in policy-making but rather a repudiation of bad policy-making in the infamous "separate but equal" doctrine enunciated by the Supreme Court in 1896.

As our nation enters its third century, the dilemmas of discrimination are not fully resolved. Out of the noble efforts directed to the goal of racial equality have come many perplexing problems of implementation and compliance.

The Court itself began the process of clarification in the second Brown decision by setting standards to be observed in desegregating public schools.

The dictum "with all deliberate speed" enunciated on that occasion was replaced in the late 1960s by a requirement that unitary school systems be developed at once.

The Court also ruled that previously segregated school systems had an affirmative obligation to achieve desegregation, not merely an obligation to refrain from segregation.

During the 1970s, the Supreme Court has addressed other emerging problems by ordering busing and the consolidation of school districts to enhance racial balance and to meet the needs of affirmative action.

In retrospect, it is easy to see that the Warren Court did not and could not confront all of the issues arising from its decree of 1964.

Nevertheless, it remains a vital truth that the court provided the initial step that forced this nation to face up to what Gunnar Myrdal has so aptly called "the American dilemma."

We have been fortunate in assembling this week a distinguished company of scholars and participants in various aspects of this great social movement of the past quarter century. I trust that in hearing them we shall revitalize our spirit and renew our common dedication and determination to convert the American dilemma into the American dream.

president; Elizabeth McCoy, treasurer; and Marie Stanek, secretary. Not pictured are: Evelyn Stark, corresponding secretary, and Bertha Motl, chaplain of the group. The new officers presided at the April 26 meeting.

Moose lodge enrolls 21

Granite City Moose Lodge 272 enrolled 21 new members in an April class enrollment. Those enrolled were Philip Merz, Major Charles Goode, Randall Irwin, Fred Becker, Bruce Manniger, William Novad, Carl Rozum, Herbert Favier, Raymond Hoffman, James Broshow, Robert Denson Jr., Joseph White, Joseph Garcia, Lenny Handion, Stephen Mead, Charles Chronister, Michael Butler, Ronald Brown, Frank Woods, Vernon Nelson and Robert Littlejohn.

The ritual ceremony was given by the Edwardsville Moose Lodge.

Guests were Walter Spier, secretary, Cahokia Moose, Roy Lokemeyer, state membership chairman, Eldon Hinson, district president from Alton, and the guest speaker, Elmer Dittelman, deputy supreme governor for Mooseheart. A meal was served and a dance followed the enrollment.

Mrs. Parks dies at 89

Mrs. Mattie Ann (Butler) Parks, 89, formerly of the 2800 block of E. 24th Street, died at 1:25 p.m. Tuesday at The Colonnades.

Mrs. Parks had been in ill health for the last 5½ years and had resided at the nursing home for the same period of time.

She was born in Calhoun County, Ill., and had lived in Granite City for 56 years. Previously, she made her home in Iron County, Mo.

Mrs. Parks was of the Protestant faith.

Her husband, Harrison Parks, died in 1959, and she was preceded in death by two sons, Elbert Parks, in 1961, and Arthur Parks, in 1972.

Survivors include a son, Montie Parks of Granite City; a daughter, Mrs. Rollie (Mellie) Nichols of Provo, Utah; a brother, James Butler of Troy, Mo.; 12 grandchildren, several great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

College day this Sunday

On Sunday between 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. in the Chesterfield Mall, Chesterfield, Mo., there will be 300 college representatives present to answer questions of parents and prospective students. A booklet listing the colleges that will be represented, plus information such as the college address, enrollment, cost figures for tuition, major programs offered and admission requirements are available in the guidance offices at Granite City High Schools North and South, in addition to Madison High School.

The booklets are free and will be helpful in college planning, according to a GCHS North counselor.

Directions on how to get to Chesterfield Mall are also available with the booklets.

Tax question not answered

The question of a three percent utility tax in Venice was not solved at a special meeting of the Venice City Council Monday evening.

The tax issue, after much discussion, was tabled until the council's regular meeting on Tuesday, May 8.

Senior citizens were at the meeting to protest the tax.

If passed, the ordinance will impose a municipal tax on four utilities—water, natural gas, electricity and telephone.

The maximum tax that the city could impose is five percent.

Venice has serious financial difficulties, according to Mayor Tyrone Echols.

"No one likes the word tax," Echols said, "but we have to find sources of income in order to continue services to the city."

The utility tax is designed to raise about $40,000 a year.

Objections centered around the belief that the utility tax would be unfair to low income families and persons on fixed incomes.

One citizen suggested the city look into the possibility of an earnings tax similar to St. Louis. The earnings tax would affect persons who work in Venice and live elsewhere, as well as those who are working and living in Venice.

Mayor Echols assured everyone the council is looking and will look into every possible solution to the city's financial problem, and will be as fair as possible to everyone.

The council did vote to increase the city vehicle license from $1 to $3.

Lincoln Place 'cleanup day'

Residents of Lincoln Place are being reminded to place all unwanted household items and trash in the alley at the rear of dwellings before 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

At that time, "Operation Clean Sweep," a neighborhood cleanup drive, will start for the seventh spring.

Volunteers will begin picking up the discarded items promptly at 7:30, he said, adding that participating residents are being asked to donate 50 cents to help defray the cost of lunch for the youthful work crew and adult supervisors.

Testing of fire hydrants this month

During the next two weeks the Illinois-American Water Company and the Granite City Fire Department will be testing fire hydrants.

Before the work is completed, every fire hydrant in the city of Granite City will be opened and flowed to its capacity.

"In this way, we are able to determine the condition and reliability of all hydrants in the city," R. L. Jackson, manager of the firm's Granite City district, said.

"The flushing of hydrants causes huge drafts of water to be moved back and forth in the water mains, and there will be some discoloration in the water in the immediate area of the flushing.

"The water is safe and will return clear and normal within a few hours."

The crew will be moving about the city according to the following schedule:

May 3 to 5, Downtown area and Lincoln Place area.

May 7 to 9, West Granite and North Granite area.

May 10 to 14, East Granite, Maryville Road and St. Clair Avenue area.

May 15 to 17, Namecki area.

May 18 to May 1, Wilson Park area.

Instruction for volunteer broadcasters

Radio Information Service at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, 500 W. Ill. Route 15, will be conducting the second in a series of five broadcasters' workshops Saturday, May 12.

The workshop is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. in the St. Joseph's Visitors Center at the shrine.

Mary Ann Tolsch, teacher of fine arts and speech at Blessed Sacrament, conducted the workshop.

She is also involved with directing plays and coaching the speech team at Althoff High School.

These workshops are designed to help Radio Information Service volunteer broadcasters achieve a degree of professionalism in their work. Suggestions and technique tips intended to contribute to quality broadcasting are offered.

Future broadcaster workshops at the shrine will be held July 14, Sept. 8 and Nov. 10.

Radio Information Service, closed-circuit broadcasting to the area blind, says it welcomes anyone interested in becoming a volunteer to attend the workshops. Jo Kathmann, 397-6700, reports.

Aquatic, first aid schooling

The Tri-City Chapter, American Red Cross, is inviting interested persons to attend its aquatic, first-aid and small craft schools, to be held at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Courses are being offered in aquatics, first-aid and small craft. The class will begin June 1 and end June 10.

Participants will learn how to teach first-aid, lifesaving, safe swimming, safe sailing, safe canoeing, cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and other subjects that help people save lives.

Educators have termed these schools "the most exceptional system of schools in America." Taught by experts in first-aid, small craft handling and safety, swimming and lifesaving, students learn by doing — both as trainees and in practice teaching sessions.

Interested persons are being asked to contact the local Red Cross Chapter, 2021 Edison Ave., Granite City (452-7184). A dance registration is required and there will be a $120 fee which covers room, board, textbooks and materials for the duration of the school.

Students wishing to commute to and from the campus may do so for a reduced fee of $60.

CHARITABLE ENDEAVORS of Eagles Aerie 1126 and its Auxiliary are noted by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, center. He issued a document declaring May 10, 11 and 12 as Eagles Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's and Max Baer Heart Fund days. Flanking the mayor are Ruth Paubel, left, Eagles Auxiliary drive chairman, and Kathleen Reed, Auxiliary president. Standing are George Mathenia, left, Aerie drive chairman, and Robert Stanton, Aerie 1126 president.

Cub Pack 22 reviews its year

Cub Scout Pack 22 had the program for the April meeting of the Frohardt PTA, its sponsoring institution. Den 5 cubs, led by Pam Winn, held the opening. Cubmaster Jim Colp presented the Cub Scout charter to PTA President John Fuhrman.

The program was planned to show what the cubs have been doing during the year. Cubs Dennis Winn, Rich Reader, Jerry Wheat III, Joey Hinnen, Nicky Drago, Craig Sykes, Wilbert Abbott and Aaron Colp and Webelos Mike Rotter, Kevin Kalka and Jim Patton displayed items they made during the year.

Webelos leaders Bill Rotter and Rich Kalka discussed a car wash for the Webelos to raise funds for the float and camping trip.

Aaron Colp, who won first place in the most original category of the Halloween costume contest, displayed a picture of his costume. The next cub scout event that was presented was the annual bake-off contest.

Richard Reader, who was first in the box cookies category, gave all present some of his cookies. Joey Hinnen, 2nd place in the scratch cake category, displayed his ribbon, which he had framed.

Wilbert Abbott, 2nd place, box cookies; Derek Winn, 3rd place, box cookies; and Mike Rotter, 3rd place, box cake, all displayed their ribbons.

Dramachoir to perform

The Dramachoir of Belleville Area College, a group of students who perform interpretation pieces, will present "Wiley and the Hairy Man" to an audience of grade school writers from all over the state in Springfield on Saturday.

The performance is in conjunction with Jack Stokes' appearance at the Young Writers' Conference as guest author. The play is Stokes' work.

A second performance will be given by the group for the Community Theater in Springfield. That troupe is currently presenting another of Stokes' plays, "Nobody Likes Mordacious." The Dramachoir will perform for the cast and crew of "Mordacious."

Earlier this month, the Dramachoir participated in the laywriting workshop held at SIUE at Carbondale for three days.

The BAC Dramachoir has become one of the most popular performing groups in the region, playing before audiences that total in the thousands each year.

Stokes is director of the group, which is open to all students of the college, both full-time and part-time, after audition.

HURT IN FIGHT
Don Rogers, 30, of Eagle, Ark., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 11:50 p.m. Monday suffering with abrasions to the forehead, left eye and upper lip. Authorities said a fight occurred among patrons of a tavern on State Street, Madison.

Eagles set fund, membership drives

In the next four weeks, Granite City Aerie 1126, Fraternal Order of Eagles, plans a three-day fund raising campaign, a large-scale membership recruitment drive and celebration of the aerie's 75th anniversary.

Additionally, the service and social organization has initiated plans for other events in the next few weeks, including a Mother's Day dinner on Tuesday, May 8, the start of weekly public barbecues this Saturday and the joint installation of Eagles and auxiliary officers on June 3.

Robert Stanton, Eagles president, said throughout May and early June the aerie is actively seeking new members.

Those interested in learning more about the Fraternal Order of Eagles are invited to call at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave., between 3 p.m. and 12 midnight on weekdays or from 10 a.m. to 12 midnight each Saturday and Sunday, or talk with any Eagles member.

The club meets each Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the home.

Stanton said that George Mathenia will head the solicitation drive May 10, 11 and 12 to benefit the Eagles Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's Fund.

Mrs. Ruth Paubel is serving as chairman of the fund raising campaign for the Eagles Auxiliary. Mrs. Kathleen Reed, president, announced.

Simultaneously, the Eagles and auxiliary members will be seeking funds for the Max Baer Heart Fund, the officers said.

"Not one penny of the money contributed to these funds is used for expenses of any kind," Mathenia stated.

A full 100 percent goes directly into the establishments that are helping the children and older people in need," he added.

Stanton said the Eagles assist several other charitable endeavors, such as the Cancer Fund, Meals on Wheels and senior citizens' programs.

"The proceeds from special projects we hold are earmarked for these purposes," he noted.

Such a project starts

Saturday at the Eagles Home when pork-steak barbecue dinners will be served from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. This is planned each Saturday through the summer months.

The public is invited to participate, Stanton said, noting that drive-up curb service is being featured this summer.

On Tuesday, May 8, at 6:30 p.m., the Eagles will serve the annual Mother's Day dinner to auxiliary members, Stanton advised.

Eagles Aerie 1126 will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its chartering on Friday, May 25, with a covered dish dinner and an evening of dancing to music provided by musicians of Local 717, who are donating their time and talents, Stanton said.

The festivities will begin at 6 p.m. and special invitations are being issued to all Golden Eagles and senior members to attend.

Joint installation of Eagles and auxiliary officers will take place June 3. Dinner, dancing and other forms of entertainment are being arranged for that day, with events to commence at 4 p.m.

In recognition of the charity drive by Eagles 1126, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler today issued a proclamation. It reads in part:

"Millions of American children are stricken by crippling diseases and heart ailments; and

"Eagles Aerie 1126 is declaring a three-day collection period on Thursday, Friday and Saturday,

May 10, 11 and 12, to give as a donation to the Jimmy Durante Crippled Children's and Max Baer Heart funds; and

"Each coin collected by Eagles Aerie 1126 will mean help for small children; and

"Now, therefore, I, Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, proclaim Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 10, 11 and 12, as Eagles Aerie 1126 'Jimmy Durante and Max Baer Collection Days' and call upon all citizens of Granite City to participate."

Celebrity golf

Funds to send handicapped children to Special Olympics and a summer recreation program are the goal of the fourth annual celebrity golf tournament to be held at Clinton Hills Country Club on Wednesday, May 16. Teeoff will be early for the golfers, who will include Cardinal football players Roger Wehrli, Dan Dierdorf, Lee Nelson, Steve Jones, Keith Workman, Tim Kearney, Jim Otis, Jim Bakken and Jim Hart.

The tournament, open to both men and women, will offer a new Thunderbird as a prize for a hole-in-one. The three-flight tournament, medal and handicap, will offer prizes for all. A $35 entry fee includes green fees, dinner and use of an electric golf cart. Interested golfers may call Bob Cook at 937-7200 between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. or Dick Hayes at 235-3306 or 537-2223. Sammu and the Outriggers and Bingo the Clown will entertain beginning at 1 p.m.

New Oath director

G. Edward Holubasch, 25, of Collinsville assumed the duties on April 23 as director for OATH (Organization for Advancement of the Handicapped) it has been announced by Henry J. Helrich, president of OATH. A graduate of Collinsville High School, he received a bachelor's degree in psychology and sociology in 1978 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is currently working on his master's degree in sociology at SIUE.

He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) fraternity and was on the SIUE president's committee for retention and recruiting of students.

Hobbies of the new director include soccer and swimming. OATH has 25 clients, all from the Quad-Cities and according to the new director it is hoped to increase the number to 75. "OATH is basically a volunteer organization as we only have three paid staff. We hope to attract more funding and overall community support which will make it possible to serve more clients. All the present money for OATH comes from individual contributions and the 708 Board."

Two of the local people, being helped by OATH, will be participating in a state bowling tournament in June. OATH is located at 612 State St., Madison, and visitors are welcome, according to the new director.

term meaning a resting place for sick and dying travelers returning from the Holy Land. Special care was provided, giving personal attention, the best food and clean clothing and limited to those facing death at a great distance from their home.

Current use of the word was derived from the development of programs for care of the dying in England.

Within the last five to seven years, the hospice movement has begun in the United States, with approximately 200 groups in various stages of planning and/or operation.

Hospice of Madison County subscribes to the following philosophy of the National Hospice Organization:

"Death is a universal fact of life and, whether or not it is accompanied by disease, dying is a normal process. We believe that every person is entitled to participate fully in this part of life in order to prepare for death in a way that is personally satisfactory.

"Hospice, as an option in the medical care system, exists not to postpone death but, with special skills and therapies, to help the patient and family live as fully as possible. Death is not denied, but life is affirmed and lived until death comes.

"We believe that we are all dependent on one another. Therefore, it is crucial, in the last few months of life, to help develop a caring community that can provide comprehensive services to patients and their families."

Major goals of the program are:

- (1) Provide physical, psychological and spiritual care for a person suffering from disease diagnosed as terminal, regardless of that person's ability to pay for such care.

- (2) Provide care for families of these persons during illness and bereavement.

- (3) Provide team-oriented support system to help people live effectively in the face of death.

Basic characteristics of the local hospice program:

- (1) Physician-directed services: Patients can remain under the care of their primary physician with the Hospice physician as consultant if problems arise, or, if so desired by the patient and/or family, the primary physician, the Hospice physician may become the primary physician.

- (2) Expertise in the control of symptoms — physical, psychological, social and spiritual — the priority item: By the use of previously tested combinations of drugs, to keep the patient pain-free and alert by adjusting doses of medication on an individual basis. To assess whether the patient's pain is primarily physical, psychological, social or spiritual and provide appropriate services to relieve the pain.

- (3) Care is provided by an interdisciplinary team: This team includes the physician, nurses, social worker, psychologist, clergy, and, as needed by other health care professionals, such as physical and occupational therapists, a dietician, lawyer, or hairdresser. Formal meetings of the team will be held each week to assess each patient's problems.

- (4) Service is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week: During regular working hours, the office will be open for emergencies patients might have. The Hospice staff will be on call during evening and nighttime hours and on weekends. An on-call system will be developed so that any emergency, day or night, will be taken care of promptly by a visit to the patient.

- (5) Patient and family as the unit of care: No person is an island. Terminal illness has heavy implications for family members as well as for the patient. They pass through similar stages as does the patient in preparing for his/her death. Family members need emotional support in order to care for the patient, and to promote an open relationship in dealing with the death of a family member.

Volunteers

Congratulating the SIUE student volunteers for their efforts, Dr. Shaw said volunteer work is "a form of commitment" that is one of the "finest and most productive traditions" in the United States.

Addressing an audience in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center, the university president added that the volunteer experience in particular can be a learning and growing experience that returns "ten-fold" whatever is given in the endeavor.

According to Mary Louise Brown, coordinator of student activities at the University Center, CIP is a program that focuses on involving students in volunteer community service activities.

Presenting awards to students were representatives Bruce Hayter of the Quad City Mental Health Clinic, Nancy Lepp and Michael Pruitt of Professional Care in Troy, Fran Albertson and Marcella Leritz of VIP Manor Nursing Home in Wood River, Becky Wisdom of the Madison County Nursing home and Judy Burnside of the Anna Henry Nursing Home in Edwardsville.

CIP provides information on volunteer opportunities throughout the area. Additional information concerning the program is available by contacting Mary Louise Brown or Patti Dissot of CIP at 692-2682.

tax funds being spent for St. Clair projects, despite opposition from the Madison County trustees.

The original order froze all the district's funds, but Attorney Bruce Cook, representing unions who work for the sanitary district, obtained a modification of Rarick's order Monday allowing the operating expenses to be paid for work on the Cahokia trunk line.

A total of $3,300 in checks then was signed by the St. Clair trustees, an action which may be challenged by the Madison County trustees in a future meeting. During a meeting Wednesday, the trustees also approved paying pollution department salaries and payroll from sewer users' fees, which were not among funds frozen by Rarick's temporary restraining order.

Included on the tour are the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walden, 2225 Delmar Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. John Calaway, 2205 Delmar Ave.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grennell, 2116 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Favier, 2130 Cleveland Blvd.; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Gregson, 2238 Delmar Ave.; and the Masonic Temple at 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

Entertainment from 1 to 6 at the Town Hall will be provided by musician John Apperson and the Jerry Green and Vera Bolt dancers.

Postpone Maeras sentencing

Tomorrow's scheduled sentencing of former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras, suspended Capt. John Cooper of the sheriff's department and fundraiser Leland Stoller of Nashville, Tenn., has been postponed to Friday, May 25, at 9:30 a.m., in Alton.

U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman ordered the postponement because he is involved in a federal trial in Springfield.

It is the second day in sentencing of the three. Initially, they were to have been sentenced April 6, but the date was first changed due to hospitalization of Maeras.

On March 19, an Edwardsville newspaper said he had cancerous tumors of the brain and lung and described them as advanced. Later, a spokesman said Maeras had undergone brain surgery.

However, he has been seen in public several times in recent weeks and appeared to be in better condition than might be possible after a brain operation. He is said to be working for a landfill company.

School lawn damaged today; arrest driver

David May, 22, of 2702 Swan Drive, was charged with reckless driving for allegedly driving his car on the lawn of Granite City High School South at 4:10 a.m. today.

A policeman alleged seeing a car being driven in a reckless manner in the school lawn and driving between the school and the gymnasium. A pole was struck, knocking a piece of chrome from the car.

The vehicle was chased on Madison Avenue to 28th Street, where the officer lost sight of it. It was located a short time later and police alleged two young men and a young woman were crouched in the front seat.

The driver was arrested and the passengers were released. Police returned to the school and found ruts in the front and rear yards.

LOW BIDS ANNOUNCED
The Illinois Department of Transportation has received bids for paint paving marking lines, sign panels and thermoplastic for numerous locations throughout this area, including 231 locations in Granite City.

The apparent low bidder is Safety Lines Marking, Inc., of Westwood, Ma., for $225,312.

The Electric Co. of Granite City is the apparent low bidder to furnish and install traffic signals at Route 3 and Hawthorne Street in Hartford, a report on the bid opening shows.

Wok spurs interest in Oriental, Spanish food

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension Adviser

Home Economics
Americans in ever-increasing numbers are conjuring up tasty Chinese, Japanese and even Spanish meals in a wok — the oriental version of the fry pan.

Sun delights as Steak Cantonese, Sweet and Sour Pork, Cashew Chicken, Tempura and Spanish Paella can be prepared in the uniquely designed cookware.

There's no special knack to using a wok. It concentrates high heat beneath a flat base; meat and seafood can be stir-fried quickly to seal in flavors.

Vegetables, prepared in this way, retain nutrients, crispness and color.

Various types of woks are available to satisfy the needs of every at-home chef. There are range-top models in stainless steel and carbon steel, or aluminum.

One component, a range-top ring, fits over a gas burner under the wok. Some woks are equipped with a tempura rack for draining foods after frying and a perforated inset rack for steaming.

A paella pan which can be used alone as a casserole, roaster or fry pan, also doubles as a cover for the wok. One model even comes with chopsticks.

Electric models generally have porcelain-coated aluminum bases, non-stick or aluminum interior and an acrylic or porcelain on aluminum cover. They feature a removable heat control and a multi-purpose, separate cooking base.

Safety tips and special care procedures are included in instruction booklets. Recipes may also be given. Read the guide carefully before using a wok.

Some recommend washing the wok and accessories in the dishwasher; others may just specify that parts can be immersed in suds. In any case, thorough cleaning is important to remove oily food soils.

Let a wok cool before attempting to clean it. Then pour any remaining oil if used, into a container. For hand dishwashing, clean the wok with hot, sudsy water.

Stubborn stains can be removed from an aluminum surface by scouring it with a soap-filled steel wool pad. A sudsy, nylon scrubber helps clean stainless steel, porcelain and non-stick finishes.

Wok cookery is certainly not new. But today's cookware with easy-care surfaces simplify preparation of a flavorful cuisine, as well as cleanup.

Services for Gilbert Taylor

Services have been held in Des Moines, Iowa, for Gilbert Taylor, 73, formerly of Granite City, who died April 25 at his home in Des Moines.

He leaves a brother and two sisters here.

Mr. Taylor was working in a senior citizens' program in Des Moines and apparently became ill and failed to report to work the morning of April 25.

Upon checking at his home, coworkers found Mr. Taylor had suffered an apparent heart attack.

He was born in Redwood, Mo., but had lived in Granite City for many years prior to leaving here 12 years ago.

He had resided in Des Moines for the past seven years and before that in Springfield, Ill., for five years.

Mr. Taylor, who had never married, was employed at Schuler Drug store here for several years.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. L. Cotton (Geraldine) Reber and Mrs. Alene Taylor Snelson, both of Granite City; four brothers, Lancelot Taylor of Lincoln, Ill., Hayes Taylor of Granite City, Homer Taylor of Bonne Terre, Mo., and Glenwood Taylor of Boise, Idaho; and several nephews and nieces.

The funeral was held Friday, April 27, at a Des Moines mortuary, with burial at a cemetery there. Local relatives were among those attending.

Hospital notes

Patients admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center include:

April 24—Victoria Thrasher, Carrie Gresham, Raymond Harrison, Joe H. Rigby, William Colter, Betty McGee, Mattie Bennett, Wendy Johnson, Victoria Smith, Janice Witt, Ruth Finn, Carol Hudson, all of Granite City; Adrian Copeland of Madison; and Ed Allen and Carmen Howers.

April 25—Virginia Taylor, Carrie M. Gettleman, Lawrence Winters, Sheila Scarborough, all of Granite City; Alice Kasten, Collinville, and John Frueh, Greenville.

April 26—Bonnie Mullins, James Champion, Billie Boyd, Katherine Hasty, Faye Raody, Edward Gaudreau, A. C. Knight, Lori Roach, all of Granite City; James E. Gaudy, Madison; Cecil Oliver, Collinsville; and Norma Morriswater.

Brother returns loot

A conscientious brother returned a roll of bills stolen from an attendant at the Nameeki Fina Service Station, 4170 Nameeki Road, at 7:20 p.m. Monday.

The attendant said three men in a black over green 1972 Pontiac stopped for a quart of transmission fluid and then left without paying for the fluid.

About the time the car left, the attendant noticed a roll of bills was gone from his jacket pocket, he told police. The car started north on Nameeki Road, but stopped in the roadway and one man ran back to the attendant, handed him a roll of bills and said, "My little brother took this and it ain't cool."

The man then ran back to the car and the three drove from the scene. The attendant reported at least $10 was still missing from the roll and the men did not pay for the quart of transmission fluid.

BENEFIT POTTERY EVENT MAY 11-13

The Wagner Potters Association, an organization of ceramic art students, will hold its fifth annual spring pottery sale at the Wagner Art Complex of SIUE May 11, 12 and 13, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. each day at the complex, located on Wolf Street in Edwardsville (off Illinois Route 159).

Flower pots, mugs, pitchers, covered jars, storage and canister sets and vases are among functional handmade items to be offered for sale. Sculptural ceramic art by students also will be available. Proceeds will assist in providing scholarship funds, funding guest lecturers and artists, sponsoring workshops and buying equipment not normally funded by the department of art and design.

SPRING TOUR.

Chorale concert tour

The Concert Chorale at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will make six appearances in the organization's annual spring tour today through Saturday.

Formal concerts open to the public will be given at St. Peter and Paul's Elementary School in Waterloo tonight at 7:30 and at St. Timothy's United Methodist Church in Litchfield at 7 p.m. Saturday.

The group will appear at Belleville High School East, Sparta High, Fox High in Arnold, Mo., and Southwest High in St. Louis.

Under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, the Chorale has performed in such places as the Mozart team in Salzburg, the Chartres Cathedral in France and the John F. Kennedy Center in Washington. The group is made up of students from a wide range of the university community and many of them are music majors.

Their concert repertoire includes three Latin motets by Hassler, Schutz and Gabrielle, the latter piece being doubled by instrumentalists from within the Chorale. Two selections from Mozart's "Solemn Vespers" will feature Theodore Presser Scholarship winner Kathy Clark, soprano, who will be joined by alto Linda Baumgartner, tenor Kurt Engstrom and bass Rusty Asbury for one of the selections.

Dan Vizer of Granite City will be accompanying these selections and others.

To conclude the first half of the program, the group will feature music of three Romantic composers, concluding with the final chorus of Felix Mendelssohn's "Elijah."

Following intermission, the Chorale will sing lighter American music, including a folk song arranged by Norman Luboff, an arrangement of the song, "Try to Remember," and another American folk song, "New York Girls."

An unusual avant garde piece by California composer Rhonda Polay will follow. It is in three movements—birth, life and death—and it requires the singers to move and respond visually to the musical ideas. The Chorale will close the concert with three spirituals, "My God is a Rock," "Wayfaring Stranger" (arranged by SIUE composition student Ron Weaver) and "Sit Down, Lord."

Arrest in check cashing case

David Wayne Hall, 17, of 400 State St., Madison, was arrested in the 2000 block of State Street at 6:40 p.m. Monday and was charged with disorderly conduct.

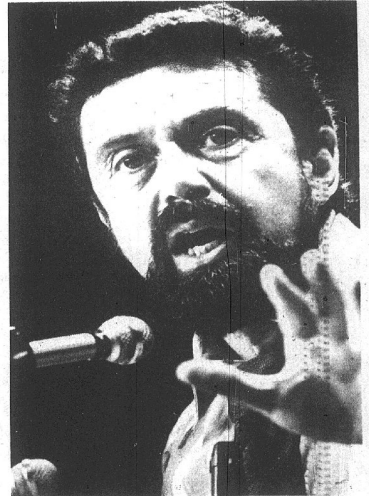

It is alleged that on April 16, he went to the home of Philip Morrison, 4800 Maryville Road, seeking work and Morrison allowed the visitor to copy Morrison's name and address from his checkbook.

Authorities believe a check was stolen from the checkbook at that time and an attempt was made to cash the check, made out for $100, at a Granite City bank. The teller refused to cash the check, because the signature did not match Morrison's. Granite City Police Detective Tony Eck investigated the case, which ended in Hall's arrest.

HOUSE BURGLARY

Leroy Shriver, 1638 East 23rd St., discovered at 12:08 a.m. Saturday, his apartment had been entered and $415 worth of sound equipment taken. Items taken included: AM-FM Pioneer receiver, eight track player, 17 albums and two speakers.

LEO BUSCAGLIA

'Love doctor' will speak

To be a lover, Leo F. Buscaglia believes, one must continually have the subtlety of the very wise, the flexibility of the child, the sensitivity of the artist, the understanding of the philosopher, the acceptance of the saint, the tolerance of the dedicated, the knowledge of the scholar and the fortitude of the certain.

Affectionately known as the "love doctor" to many who have come in contact with him through his classes, reading his books on the subject, or listening to his lectures, Buscaglia stresses belief in the individual in his teachings and writings.

He will visit the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus May 10, lecturing on "The Japs of Being Fully Human" at 8:15 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

A professor of education at the University of Southern California, Buscaglia has taught a popular course in love for many years. The course became the background for a book he wrote, entitled simply, "Love."

Since then, he has written several other books, including "The Disabled and the Parents: A Caring Challenge," "The Way of the Bull," and "Because I Am Human."

An inexhaustible traveler, Buscaglia says his relationships with people of all nationalities have convinced him of the commonality of human beings. He has learned that everyone strives to survive, to love and be loved, to overcome loneliness, and to attempt to understand the world and the individual's part in it.

Airlift's commander will retire

General William G. Moore Jr., commander in chief, Military Airlift Command, announced Monday he will retire effective June 30. Gen. Moore has been MAC commander in chief since April 1977.

Under his direction, the Military Airlift Command—based at Scott AFB, Belleville—has successfully carried out numerous humanitarian relief operations, including massive snow relief operations in the northeastern U.S. in 1977 and 1978, the 78 Zaire airlift, the airlift of bodies from Guyana in late 78, and countless natural disaster relief endeavors on both the domestic and foreign scene.

One of the Air Force's most decorated commanders, Gen. Moore has seen action in three wars, compiling a total of 240 combat missions, flying both bombers and transport aircraft.

He entered the service as an aviation cadet in 1940 and was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in 1941. He advanced quickly through the ranks, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel a scant three years later.

He returned to civilian life in 1947 but was recalled during the Korean war in 1950 and continued his rise to the Air Force's highest rank.

Upon taking the reins of the Military Airlift Command, he led it through a period of achievement—an era marked by a host of government and industrial awards accruing the MAC. Described as articulate and hard-driving, the general became a familiar spokesman as he traversed the country to address numerous elements of the U.S. society.

Varied events for secretaries

Members of the Tri-Cities Chapter, the National Secretaries Association International, joined secretaries all over the world in observing Secretaries Week last week.

The chapter members traditionally begin the week with attendance at the church of one of their members. This year, they participated in midnight services of St. Cyril and Method Orthodox Church, a candlelight service with Father Joseph Miller of New York officiating.

The next highlight was "Be Kind to the Boss" Day, and a contest was held to see which member had the longest list of good things she did to benefit her boss and to improve her work.

Members and guests gathered at Sunset Hills Country Club to hear KNOX Radio's Bob Hardy. Theme of the dinner was "The Key to Success—A Good Secretary." Programs and favors were coordinated to this theme.

Secretaries Day was observed with a luncheon at the Lennox Hotel. NSA member Gail Foley, CPS, spoke on the certified professional secretary program.

Concluding the week's activities was a gathering at the home of Helen Christich, billed as a "come as you can in a sheet" brunch. Prizes were awarded for the most original costumes.

Members have been cooperating with Granite City High School North, Granite City High School South and Madison High School by having members of the Future Secretaries Associations at the three high schools, which they sponsor, in their offices to spend a day and experience the business world.

SECRETARIES WEEK committee members of the Tri-Cities Chapter. Seated is Judy Novosel, Standing, l-r, are Charlie Vutovic, chairman, and Maria Tebbe, Helen Christich and Adrienne Warchol.

Major release of natural gas permits by Ill. Power

Illinois Power Company notified the Illinois Commerce Commission on Tuesday of its intention to release 25,635,651 Mcf a year of natural gas to 15,225 applicants who have permit requests on file at IP company offices as of April 30, 1979.

Of the applicants on file April 30, residential applicants number 12,297, with the rest falling in the commercial and industrial category.

The proposed release is to be filed in priorities 1, 2a, 2b, 3a, 3b and 4a, embracing residential, commercial and industrial customers. In addition, a few applicants in class 4b will be accommodated.

The proposed effective date of the release is June 1, 1979.

Gas becoming available is from certain customers changing from service classification 75—in-terruptible industrial gas service. Also noted are the continuing effect of energy conservation and improved gas supplies from some of the company's five pipeline suppliers.

This is the largest proposed release of natural gas by IP since the controlled attachment priority system went into effect.

Revival at church

A revival is in progress at the Free Will Baptist Church, 2216 Charles St., between Highway 82 and E. 23rd Street, tonight, Friday and Saturday evenings at 7.

The Rev. Gene Norris, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church in Benton, Ill., is the guest evangelist. He is a member of the Free Will Baptist state board of home missions.

Tonight will be Family night and Rev. Norris will speak to the ladies of the church from 9 to 10 a.m. Friday.

Friday evening will be Youth Night and the youth choir from the Fourth Free Will Baptist Church, St. Louis, will sing during the program.

The Rev. Hurschel Sipes,

REV. GENE NORRIS

pastor of the local church, is inviting everyone to the revival.

Mrs. Anna Krpan dies

Mrs. Anna M. (Buncich) Krpan, 78, of 814 Grand Ave., Madison, a resident of the Quad-Cities for the last 70 years, died at 8:45 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mrs. Krpan, who had been in ill health for the last four years, was taken to the hospital by ambulance from her home about 30 minutes earlier when her condition worsened.

She was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

Her husband, Sam Krpan, died on June 9, 1975.

She is survived by two sons, George J. Krpan of Madison and Samuel F. Krpan of Granite City; three daughters, Mrs. Fred (Emma A.) Kudela and Mrs. Charles (Franky M.) Shea, both of Granite City, and Mrs. George (Helen M.) White of LaHabra, Calif.;

MRS. ANNA KRPAN

one sister, Mrs. Mary Strele of Springfield, Mo.; a brother, Joe Richards of Texas; nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Limited summer school program

Again this year, no money will be available from the state for a basic summer school program.

Granite City summer plans approved Tuesday night were:

High school credit courses on a tuition basis ($20 per course, same as last summer).

High school band on a tuition basis ($10 per student).

Special Education on a limited basis (reimbursable classes only).

And the Vocational-cosmetology Program (reimbursed by state).

Dates for summer school will be May 30 through July 11.

Nameoki committee members restrict selves on way they discuss activities

Nameoki Township Democratic precinct committee members voted Monday night against releasing information on committee meetings, unless the releases are approved by the chairman, Harry Briggs.

Briggs said he feels the move was an effort to limit the committee's activities, rather than having splintered reports from various members, with some reports possibly offending certain members of the committee.

Briggs said Mrs. Helen

Hawkins, who sometimes publicly discusses the committee's activities, was not at the Monday night meeting. She is an elected Democratic committeewoman.

The committee also voted to bar members from using the fact they are committeemen or officers of the committee in political announcements or advertising in the future.

Frank Mehele, vice-chairman of the Nameoki Democratic committee, called for the meeting. Nine committeemen were present out of the 12 in the township.

SIGNS ANGER DRIVER

A young man in a new yellow Chevrolet Corvette obviously did not like the placement of new stop signs on Terrace Lane at Cottage Avenue at 4:40 p.m. Monday and he stopped, pulled both signs from the ground and placed them down. A witness told the youth to replace the signs, but he refused and drove away. The signs had just been installed at 10 a.m. that day, by order of the Granite City Council.

STUDENT HEARINGS

Three Madison High School students were reinstated on probation Monday evening following a special meeting of the Madison Board of Education. One student withdrew from school.

Musical is to be featured at Hope Lutheran Church

Sections of the musical "Alleluia" will be presented at the 10:30 a.m. service this Sunday, May 6, by the choir at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave. The musical will be part of the post-Easter celebration and is in observance of "Cantate" Sunday.

Soloists and special leaders are: Norman Frech, Cheryl Jensen, Jill Lockhart, Jim Massey, Mark Neptun, Sarah Repp and Ellen Voyles. The choir director is Shirley Blasingame.

During the same worship service, anthems will be presented by the Cherub Choir, the Children's Choir and the Teen Choir, in addition to the "Alleluia" presentations. New members will be received into membership.

WOMAN INJURED

Joyce Clinton, 21, of 2837 Pershing Blvd., was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center early this week after being injured in an auto accident on Lee Avenue. She was a passenger and suffered a cut to her right knee and bumped her head on the windshield. X-rays were taken, her knee was sutured and she was released.

State BPW elects Miss Smith

Annelen P. Smith, a member and past president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, was elected second vice-president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women at the state convention which concluded this week at the Palmer House in Chicago.

Miss Smith, 2810 Yale Drive, is the first member of the Granite City BPW Club to attain state office in the local club's 57-year history.

Wilma Harpole of Mount Vernon was elected state federation president and Colleen Forsys of Rockford was named president-elect for 1979-80.

Also elected by the 933

BPW members attending the Diamond Jubilee convention in Chicago were: Aina Holland, Arlington Heights, first vice-president; Betty Bolanos, Schaumburg, treasurer; and Elizabeth Mutka, Forest Park, recording secretary.

Miss Lucille Ann Schott of Vernon Hills is the retiring state president.

Two members of the Granite City club were named to state appointments by the federation's new president.

Lois Wetton, local BPW president, was appointed to the Illinois BPW Individual Development Program Training Committee and Rosalee Stern, first vice-president, was chosen to serve on the state Foundation Committee.

Pauline Weir, also a member of the Granite City club, will continue to serve a seven-year term on the BPW State Headquarters Fund Committee.

A 12-year member of the Granite City club, Miss Smith was employed by the Department of the Army retiring in 1971 after having served 30 years.

Her entire career was in the field of logistics and financial management as a systems analyst and she was one of the first three women to attend the Army Logistics Management School at Fort Lee, Va.

She also served as a member of several Department of the Army Study Groups in the areas of systems development and improvement.

Miss Smith began her federal government service at the Granite City Army Installation. She also worked in Washington, D.C., Detroit, Mich., and St. Louis.

During her career she received many "Outstanding Performance" and "Sustained Performance" awards and letters of commendation.

She was a nominee for Federal Woman of the Year in 1972, nominee for Federal Woman of Achievement in 1975 and 1976 and was also nominated for "Who's Who in Women of America" in 1976.

Since retiring from the federal service, Miss Smith has embarked on a

ANNELLEN SMITH
New state officer

new career as an advertising counselor with Directions Unlimited, Inc. of Fairview Heights.

In her present position she has pioneered a hospital package and marketed it in all of the hospitals in the Illinois state area, a first for the firm.

Miss Smith is an active member of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ and is an officer of the Church Council and president of the St. Peter Evening Guild.

She has been active as a Brownie and Girl Scout leader and in 1977 was presented a certificate of appreciation in recognition of her "contributions and unselfish and faithful service" to the Girl Scout Council.

The state BPW's new second vice-president has participated in various civic affairs, including Salvation Army, Cancer Research, Hearst Fund, Society for Crippled Children and Chamber of Commerce.

Under Miss Smith's leadership as BPW state membership chairman, the Illinois federation won the Winged Victory award at the national BPW convention, signifying the greatest percentage of increased membership. It was the first such award for the state organization.

She served as state convention co-chairman in 1975-76, and has held several district chairmanships and various offices, and committee posts in the Granite City BPW Club.

Patrick to leave Youth Services

Don Patrick, who was unsuccessful in his candidacy for president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board in the April 17 election, will leave the Pontoon Beach—Nameoki area office of Coordinated Youth Services Friday, leaving the office without a director.

Patrick said he is leaving his post as director of the branch under pressure by the successful village candidates, who are demanding that he be removed from the office. It is in space the village has donated on the second floor of the village hall.

"They don't want me in their building, so I will clear out of the office Friday and will be returning to college at the University of Missouri at St. Louis," Patrick said.

He has been working in the downtown office of Coordinated Youth Services since Monday, leaving a referral specialist and two Manpower employees to run the Pontoon Beach branch office.

Passenger hurt

Sandra Rozzell, 13, of 2066 Fourteenth St., was injured in an auto accident at 9:05 p.m. Monday and was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for pain to her right hand and wrist and a bump to her head.

Police were told she was a passenger in the car of Judith Free of the same address, which stopped in the 2000 block of Fourteenth St. to discharge passengers and was struck from behind by the pickup truck of Russell D. McGovern, 3016 Warren Ave. The driver of the car and two other passengers escaped injury.

McGovern was issued a ticket alleging failure to yield the right of way. Miss Rozzell was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was released after X-rays were taken.

Fun auction for Ladies-in-Action

Dorothy Lakin served as emcee for an auction of fine elephant items held Monday night by the Ladies-in-Action group at Briarcliff Methodist Church.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Bertha Dix and Mrs. Dorothy Smith and Mrs. Lakin was awarded a prize.

A prayer to open the business session was offered by Mrs. Vida Murphy and business transactions were handled.

It was agreed to place a memorial notice in the Press-Record in remembrance of the Rev. Ross Smith, a former pastor at Briarcliff Church who died May 3, 1978.

Members voted to give a household appliance to a family of church members whose home was destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Chris Stentzer, president, was in charge and a quilt top was displayed at the quilting group will sew for resale.

A cradle shower was planned for Mrs. Judy VanWinkle, the daughter of Mrs. Stentzer, to end the meeting.

Others present were Phyllis Allen, Bonnie Davis, Deena Beaver, Marje Glasgow, Opal Orrell, Wanda Watson, Vangie Bower, Helen Sanders, Marie Murphy, Omie Fairless and Ann Hoson.

ENGAGED. Miss Sandra Back will marry Greg Schroeder of Granite City in September. Miss Back is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Back of St. Louis.

Mary Becherer honored

Miss Mary Kay Becherer, June bride-to-be, was honored at a miscellaneous dinner this week hosted by her aunt, Mrs. Phil Sheridan, Mrs. Clem Rehagen and Miss Dolores Sheridan.

The gifts were presented to the honoree in an antique chest and she was assisted in receiving them by her sister, Kathleen Becherer, who is to be maid of honor, and her younger sister, Susan, who also will be in the bridal party.

Handmade pin cushions in the color to be worn by the bride's attendants were at each guest's place and the centerpiece was silk roses and baby's breath.

Guests included Mrs. Gerald Griffith, mother of the prospective groom, and Mrs. Robert Becherer, mother of the prospective bride; Mrs. Walter Pfaff, the groom's grandmother; Mrs. Oswald Becherer and Mrs. Phil Sheridan Sr., both grandmothers of the bride; and Mrs. Samuel Guenther, Mrs. Kay Siebert, Mrs. George Moran, Mrs. Donald Pfaff, Mrs. G. A. Griffith, Mrs. Harold Becherer, Mrs. Frank Griffith, Miss Mildred King, Miss Mildred Ward and Misses Kathleen and Susan Becherer.

Miss Becherer will be married to Greg Griffith on June 29 at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

BALLROOM LESSONS

A four-week ballroom dance class started at the Tri-City Area YMCA last night. The class, taught by Jim and Tillie Bravin, will meet from 7:30 to 9 each Wednesday.

The Bravins have taught ballroom dancing privately in the Collinsville area for over eight years. Among the dances they will teach are the fox trot, cha-cha, rumba and waltz. The fee is $10 for members and $15 for non-members. It is not necessary to have a partner to register for the class.

Sandra Back to marry

The engagement of Miss Sandra Back and Greg Schroeder is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Back of St. Louis.

The groom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dettwiler and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder, all of Granite City.

Miss Back, a 1978 graduate of Jewish Hospital School of Nursing, is employed at Christian Northeast Hospital.

Her fiancé is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is employed at L. and S. Plumbing in Granite City.

A September wedding is being planned by the couple.

May Fellowship Day is Friday

All women in the community are invited to attend the annual May Fellowship Day of Church Women United, scheduled at 10:45 a.m. Friday at Netherhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue.

Registration begins at 10:15 a.m., and a salad luncheon will be served at 12 noon.

Cynthia Desabier of the Lutheran Children Family Services Agency in Belleville will be the guest speaker.

This year's theme, "Our Children: Our Promise," will focus on the needs and rights of children, with attention being paid to needs in the local community, as well as worldwide programs to aid children.

SKATEBOARD DEMONSTRATION
Tuesday morning at Grigsby Junior High sponsored by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. With emphasis on skateboard safety, three young professional riders exhibited the dos and don'ts of skateboarding and also showed their individual talents at the school assembly.

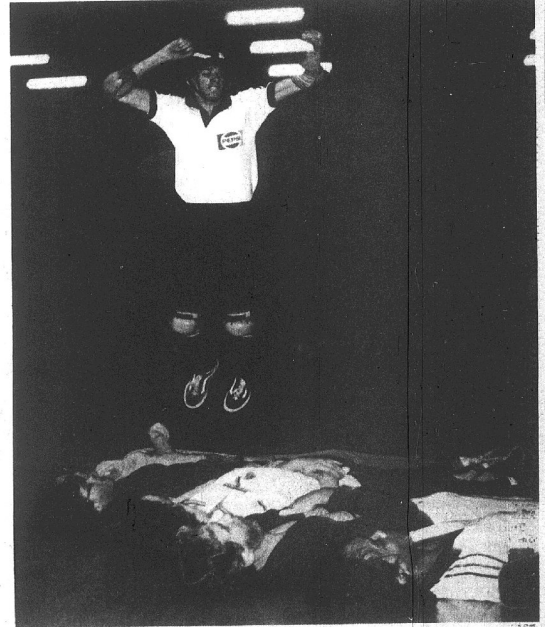

At far left, John Carey shows how it's done on two boards. Two boards were also placed one on top of the other during the program.

Alan Sidlo, center picture, performs on a board that he designed which has only one wheel assembly. This board is comparable to a unicycle but is even more difficult to ride.

A flying leap is taken by Bob Unzicker over six volunteers who included four students, one teacher and Sidlo. Unzicker is seen leaping from one skateboard at full speed only to land, hopefully, on another. He progressively leaped over two people, then four, then finally the six.

The program will be presented to the students of Prather Junior High on Friday at 2:45 p.m. Narrator for the program was Jack Mead.

Madison to study city tax structure

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk told the City Council at the Tuesday evening council meeting that the city assessed valuation has dropped from $23 million in 1970 to about $13 million now. "I would like to meet with an aldermanic utility committee, which I will appoint in a few minutes, and study a new concept in our tax structure," Sasyk said.

"We now levy taxes in about 10 areas and I feel we could waive some of the levies and replace them with a new utility tax. I feel we could possibly lower the property tax to offset a new utility tax. We need to study various ways to make the tax burden a little easier on property owners and our senior citizens on fixed incomes," Sasyk said.

Members of the aldermanic utility committee appointed at the council meeting Tuesday are: Second Ward Alderman Frank Dutko chairman, Booker Walton fifth ward alderman, Robert Don Reeves first ward, Christ Costoff fourth ward, and Thomas Gordon, third ward, who is also chairman of the city finance committee.

The council then went into executive session to discuss personnel at 8:20 p.m.

Meeting with the council in closed session were the three Madison police commissioners, Ed Ray Dubish, John Bridick and Joe Besserman, in addition to Chief of Police Donald Bridick.

The council went back into open session and voted to hire Richard Asperger as a probationary patrolman pending a waiver by Richard Ballew.

Ballew, who was first on the eligibility list, suffered an industrial accident that permanently injured his right hand, according to a spokesman for the police commissioners.

Alderman Elmer Smith said, "During the April 11 rain we had a lot of water in Ward Three and I have asked for a meeting with the Levee Board to check the sewers and see if there is anything that can be done to correct the problem."

Alderman Gordon said, "This is not a new problem. This happens often in heavy rains and I believe that the sewer system must end somewhere in the ward."

Alderman Walton then remarked, "We have the same problem in the Fifth ward on Jackson street that covers about a three block area."

Mayor Sasyk said that he and the superintendent of streets will check the sewer problems with the respective aldermen.

Riggs' humor, songs drawing big crowds

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Charlie's Restaurant has long been known for standing room only, but the entertainer now appearing is drawing record crowds, leaving little standing room.

Tommy Riggs, who is causing all the crowding with his quick wit and good singing, readily admits he does not help alleviate the space problem. "I weigh 310 pounds. The sign over there says 315, but they weighed me right after I ate."

"I was born in Arkansas and raised there, and raised there and raised there," Riggs quips about his weight.

TOMMY RIGGS

He describes the view when he sits in a lawn chair as "like pancake batter on a tennis racket." The humor is not restricted to one subject, but Riggs' size is his favorite on-stage topic.

"I like to walk around the audience during the show and hold hands with the ladies. Skinny entertainers can't do that. The husbands figure, 'He's making a pass at Erma,' and try to punch the skinny ones out. They don't worry about me. That's where I fool them," Riggs says with an impish grin on his face.

Some of Riggs' humor is not suited for a family audience and would have to be rated "R," but the audience never seems offended.

There is more to his show than one liners, such as, "I'd rather have a bottle in front of me than a frontal lobotomy," as Riggs mixes his jokes with music. His selections are designed to fit the crowds and range from Tom Jones style to country, slow and spiritual songs and a medley of favorites from the 1950s, including "Go, Johnny, Go," "Good Night, My Love," "You Send Me," "The Great Pretender," and many others.

Riggs also is backed by an excellent group of musicians, including Paul Edmondson on drums, Jeff Long on the keyboard and arrangements, Rusty Allen on guitar and keyboard and Cosmo Johnson on bass guitar and vocal. Phillip Montgomery works full-time with lighting for the show and provides some unusual effects with the spotlights.

"We all grew up within a few miles of each other and knew each other and just ended up working together," Riggs says.

"I developed my sense of humor at the dinner table in my home, sharing jokes with my brother and my father, handling smoothies from my sisters and keeping up with my mom. My mom is quick," Riggs commented.

His career started with 12 years in radio, including a "radio follies" which required a great deal of ad-lib conversation and wit, "no holds barred," the entertainer recalled. "During those 12 years in radio, however, I always wanted to sing and entertain. I enjoy the feedback from the crowds. On radio, it was fun to tell a good joke, but then you had to wait a week for the fan mail to tell you they liked it."

"I guess I've always had a cartoon mind," he concluded.

Riggs has been on the road 50 weeks a year during most of his seven years as a professional entertainer and has been doing increasingly long stints in Las Vegas.

"I normally cannot do well staying in one location. When people have heard your show before, it's easy to slack off and slide."

"You say to yourself, 'If I don't do well tonight, they can forgive me, because they know I'm funny and just had a bad night.' I have to fight that."

"On the road, every night is a first night and I have to win that audience. Sometimes I lose, but most of the time, I do win and I feel like a million dollars. That does it for me."

"Vegas is the only place where you get a new audience for every show, so I am moving my family there next week. That way, maybe I can stay at home a little bit more and still not lose that 'first-night' edge."

Riggs has a young daughter and twin 9-year-old sons ("Eighteen, if you stack them") who provide the topics for much of his humor. John Davidson frequently sings a song Riggs wrote about his family and once reduced the number of sons in the song from two to one. "I ran home and told my wife, 'I just heard John Davidson sing my song and he snuffed out one of the twins,'" Riggs said jokingly.

The two week engagement at Charlie's has been enjoyable, Riggs said, noting, "People here come up to you and tell you to your face that they enjoyed the show and that I made them feel good. That makes me feel good. We really had a great time in Granite City and I hope we are booked back here soon," Riggs said.

His shows continue nightly through Sunday night before Riggs and his group leave for Little Rock, Ark.

Dog handler class slated

An eight-week dog obedience class for novice dog handlers will begin Tuesday, May 8, at the Tri-City Area YMCA.

The first meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. All others will begin at 7 p.m. and will meet for one hour.

Don Guldge of Granite City will instruct the class, which is structured to teach basic commands. Guldge has studied basic and advanced dog obedience and has bred and trained guard dogs.

Registration for the class can be made by calling the YMCA at 876-7200. The fee for "Y" members is $6 and $12 for non-members.

Those enrolling in the course are to attend the first week without their dogs. Specific rules and handler's information will be given out at this session.

IN MEMORY OF REV. ROSS S. SMITH MAY 3, 1975

Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall.
You had a kind word for each,
And died beloved by all.

The voice is mute and stilled the heart,
That loved us well and true.
Bitter was the trial to part,
From one as good as you.

You are not forgotten loved one,
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last,
We will remember thee.

We miss you now, Our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more.
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.

3-year Eagle Park Fire District term for Salmond

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Three Eagle Park civic leaders appointed to serve as the first trustees of the new Eagle Park Fire Protection District decided the length of time each will serve Monday night by drawing for one, two and three year terms.

Ed Salmond, 93 Hill St., drew the three-year term, with Clarence Rhodes, 125 Carver St., and Herman Smith, 201 Terry St., drawing the two and one year terms, respectively.

The men were appointed to serve on the new Fire Protection District Board of Trustees by the Venice Town Board of Auditors at its meeting last week, following their nomination for the trusteeships by Eagle Park residents.

Attorney Robert V. Matosian, who has aided in the legal formation of the district, was present at Monday night's drawing.

The trustees also elected officers. Smith was chosen to serve as president, with Rhodes as secretary and Salmond as treasurer.

For about the next three months, the trustees are planning to hold meetings every Saturday morning, starting at 10 o'clock, in the Eagle Park Improvement Association Hall, Rhodes told the Press-Record Wednesday.

After that time, it is hoped to meet on a regular basis once a month, he said.

Eagle Park residents authorized the formation of a fire protection district by referendum on April 14.

The unincorporated community lies south of Madison, just west of Route 203.

In order to establish the district, the trustees plan to seek a total of $45,000 in Community Development funds, which has been allocated for road improvements in that com-

College graduation next week

Belleville Area College will hold its graduation ceremony Friday, May 11, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, located at 1267 North 57th St., Belleville.

The BAC Jazz Lab Band conducted by Jerry Bolen will perform at 6:30 p.m. and the ceremony will begin at 7 p.m.

There are 675 students who will have graduated in 1979. These are students who received degrees during the summer session and the fall and spring semesters.

Awarded in the past year were 143 associate of arts degrees, 173 associate of science degrees, and 359 associate of applied science degrees.

An estimated 166 graduates will march in the ceremony May 11.

Immediately following the ceremony, there will be a reception for the graduates and their friends and families.

Smith, the board of trustees' new president, is retired from American Steel Foundries.

Rhodes is employed at Mallinckrodt, Inc., St. Louis, and Salmond is a custodial employee of the Venice School District.

Kuldell heads advisory board

C. E. Kuldell, executive director of the Council of Contractor Associations, Collinsville, has been elected president of the Illinois Metro East Advisory Board.

He succeeds Carl E. Mathias, service area manager, Illinois Power Co., Granite City.

Illinois Metro East is an organization of businessmen, labor leaders, education and public agency officials promoting economic development in Illinois counties of the St. Louis urban region. It is affiliated with the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

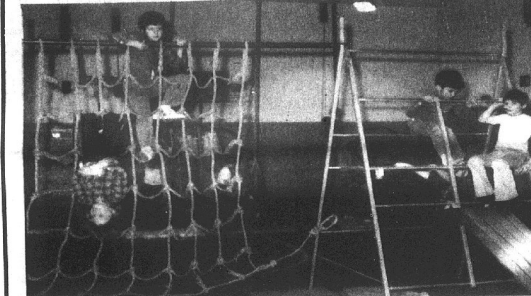

Re-elected were: vice president, James E. Johnson, manager, Civic Memorial Airport Authority, East Alton; treasurer, Robert A. Wetzel, senior vice-president, Bank of Edwardsville; and secretary, James E. Holderread, deputy director of economic development, ROGA.

Program Sunday will end the Armenian school year

Young people attending the Mesrobian Armenian School of St. Gregory's Armenian Church will conclude the school year with a special program Sunday.

Between 30 and 35 students take part in the curriculum which is intended to teach young people of Armenian descent the language and culture of their ancestry.

Divine Liturgy at 10:30 a.m. Sunday at the church will start the day's activities.

A luncheon and the program will follow at the Armenian Revolutionary Federation Club, 832 Niedringhaus Ave., according to the Rev. Khoren Habeshian, St. Gregory's pastor and chairman of the event.

Dr. Vatche Ayzavian, a physician practicing at St. John's Mercy Medical Center, St. Louis County, will be the principal speaker.

The theme of this year's closing program will depict the progress made by the pupils, whose ages range from 5 years to 16.

Posters, essays, songs and readings will allow the parents to see the various levels of the curriculum in action, the pastor explained.

Awards will be presented to students who have displayed excellence in academics and behavior.

Rev. Habeshian said.

All parishioners are being invited to attend the program.

BUS DIESEL CUTBACK

With 32,000 gallons of diesel fuel needed each day by the Bi-State Transit System, its allocation has been reduced by 20 percent.

Acting Executive Director John Brawley said Wednesday state help will be sought from Illinois and Missouri in assuring an adequate supply of diesel fuel.

New deputy assessor paid

A legal opinion by Granite City Township Attorney William Schooley that the city council, seated as the town board, controls hiring by the township assessor only through approval of the assessor's budget was read to the council Tuesday night.

For the last two weeks, the council has refused to pay the salary of a new deputy assessor, saying he was hired by Assessor Von Dee Cruse without consulting either the council or the council's finance committee.

The deputy assessor, Terry Schmidt, was hired after he left the staff of Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton in Edwardsville and some aldermen said they were concerned whether he was a resident of Granite City and whether he should be hired at a salary higher than other deputy assessors.

Tuesday night, Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said he had investigated the residency question and found Schmidt is qualified. "People who have watched Mr. Schmidt work say he is a top-notch man in his field in real estate and we are real proud to have him," Whitmer said.

The alderman also said he investigated the residency question and Schmidt gave him a signed letter saying he has lived at 2504 Lincoln Ave. since Jan. 6, when he moved from Wood River.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward then made a motion he be paid, including back pay, and the motion passed unanimously.

The legal opinion indicated that Cruse has the power to choose his staff but that salary limits are decreed by the aldermen as members of the town board. An example given was that the assessor could eliminate an employee's job but then could not double another employee's pay without town

NATIONAL SECRETARIES WEEK is observed by the Illinois Business and Technical School, 2100 Edison Ave. Each student and instructor has received a corsage in honor of the special week. Beverly Doolin left, an instructor at the school, has her corsage pinned on by Mrs. Gina Einig, director of the school.

Dinner honors secretary of year Twila Edmonds

Miss Twila Edmonds was named "secretary of the year" of the Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) at the 18th annual Secretaries Week banquet held at Sunset Hills Country Club in Edwardsville.

There were 34 members and guests present. Bob Hardy of KMOX radio was the guest speaker. Miss Edmonds was presented with an arrangement of roses and a secretary of the year certificate by Nancy Bezan, the 1978 winner. Other past SOTY recipients recognized were Charlie Vunovic, Mary Sedekum, Jane Davis, Helen Gieselmann, Twila Edmonds (1967), Sunny Scruggs, Mary Gain, Sally Gracey, Joyce Savich, Lana

Each was presented with a red crocheted rose. Two of the members, Gail Foley and Peggy Moore, were unable to attend. Miss Edmonds is secretary to Tom Thebeau, a State Farm insurance agent in Granite City. Thebeau was awarded "boss of the year" for 1978 by the Tri-Cities Chapter last October. Serving as this year's committee for Secretaries Week were: Charlie Vunovic, chairman, and

PHARMACY FIRE

A minor fire in the pharmacy area of Gasen's Drug Store at 1:33 p.m. Sunday did an estimated $100 damage. A fire department spokesman said the fire is believed to have started from a cigarette. Firemen were at the scene for about an hour.

Bunko-Ettes meet at Druhe residence

Mrs. Rose Druhe hosted the meeting this week of the Bunko-Ettes. The birthday of Mrs. Angie Buhler was celebrated with gifts and a cake.

Prizes were won by Julia Portell, Dorothy Barnett, Mrs. Druhe, May Ebling, and Helen Lipchik. Guests present were Mrs. Carol Nesbitt, Mrs. Juanita Blevins, and Mrs. Helen Santagato. Other members present were Florida Batson, Leona Delaloye, and Ruth Partney.

Busy 'women's' week scheduled

The campus chapter of Women for Women at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is sponsoring "Women's Week" May 7-11, at the university. Events scheduled for the week include workshops, seminars, lectures and films, with topics ranging from self-defense to male sensitivity. Feminist singers and a feminist rally are also planned. The events have been designed to "bring women together on campus and in the community, and bring about an awareness of the services available for women," according to Nina Gansmann, Women for Women spokesman. She said the events aren't open to just women. "We're not excluding men," she said. All of the week's activities will be held in the University Center and are open to the public. Interested persons may contact Women for Women at 692-2019 for further information.

'Future studies' topic

Dr. Jo Clayton, professor of political science at Forest Park Community College, St. Louis, was guest speaker during the weekend at a brunch and meeting of Beta Eta Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society International.

The group met at Elliot's Three Mile House, north of Edwardsville.

Before brunch was served, Mrs. Howard Elliot, owner of the Three Mile House, gave a resume of the past history of the 127-year-old structure, explaining the house had served as a stage coach inn in the 1800s.

June Tupper, chairman of the professional affairs committee, introduced Dr. Clayton, who spoke on "Future Studies."

She told the women educators that in today's fast changing world, events and trends can catch a teacher unprepared and one must be fully prepared to provide students with the correct thinking patterns to enable them to "cope" with the future and to know that change is normal.

A teacher's role is to explain to the student that future studies can be an extension of every field, Dr. Clayton emphasized.

She further stressed that despite the upsurge in computerized educational programs expected in the near future, the need for teachers will not diminish.

Mrs. Helen Thatcher of Edwardsville, Beta Eta president, presided at the open executive board meeting.

In honor of her recent election as state president of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, Mrs. Josephine O'Neil was presented a silver tray from the Beta Eta Chapter.

A spring sing-a-long was directed by Mrs. Valerie Stevens to conclude the program.

Members attending from the Quad-City area included Nancy Barnett, Marguerite Connole, Irene Cook, Sandra DeMoulin, Vivian Dine, Viola Edwards, Carol Gendron, Jean Hall, Anna Marie Harr, Nelle Hart, Martha Hayes, Mary Harper, Joanne Higgins, Jerrylyne Lipe, Virginia Oram, Gladys Pape, Helen Purkale, Nancy Rainer, Cleo Ulm and Mrs. Stevens.

STRING CONCERT

The Lincoln String Quartet, composed of four SIUE department of music faculty members, will perform in the Lovejoy Library auditorium Friday at 8:15 p.m. Featured in the program will be Franz Joseph Hayden's "Quartet, Opus 64, No. 5, The Lark" and Franz Schubert's "Quintet in C, Opus 163." The performance is open to the public at no charge.

Hospice topic of club at St. Margaret Mary

Twenty-one ladies attended the April meeting of the St. Margaret Mary Ladies Club.

Many year-end projects were finalized. The ladies are readying plans for their bazaar to open the fall school term.

Chairman Pat Alsop commented that all projects are under way and will continue on a regular basis throughout the summer months.

Along with Church Women United, the group's representatives hosted their annual birthday party at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home on April 23, it was noted.

Guest speaker for the evening was Jeffrey Cheadle on "Hospice." This program deals with treating the terminally ill patient in a home atmosphere.

"Death with dignity" helps the patient and the family cope with all related problems, rather than isolating them and the patient in a hospital, it was asserted.

The second grade class mothers led the attendance for the evening. Shirley Miller received the prize of the evening and Cindy O'Rourke of St. Louis was given a quilt.

The next meeting on May 8 will be the club's mother-daughter pot luck supper, which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Millikin announce second child

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Millikin, 620 Engineer Road, Mitchell, are announcing the birth of their second child, Kristin Nicole.

The baby girl was born on April 28, 1979 at St. Joseph's Hospital, Alton. She weighed eight pounds, 10 ounces. She is joined a sister, Laura Elizabeth, 2, at home.

The mother is the former Donna Cockrell.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cockrell, Granite City; paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Millikin, Granite City. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Logan and Mrs. Laveagh Millikin, all of Pinckneyville, Ill.

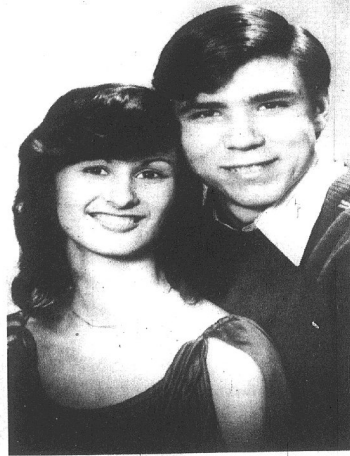

HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Gina Doan of Pontion Beach was the honored guest at a shower given at the VFW Hall in Washington Park by Cheryl Turner, Kathryn Feldpausch and Jean Cleaton.

The hall was decorated in pink and blue.

Refreshments were served to Lisa, Brenda and Kelly Cleaton, Faye Ryan, Nancy Bailley, LeAnn Lynn, Melody Key, Clara Seibing, Billie Jo Turner, Shawn and Sherry Oadon, Edith Key, Sharon Strobel, Josephine and Barbara Feldpausch, Julia Hill, Louise Mitchell, Jackie and Penny Brown, Gary Smith, Paula and Jackie Compton, Juanita Dedmon, Judy LaMar, Marie Crook, Mary Rustio and Florence Florenco.

Charles Alexander will be married in June at the First Presbyterian Church, Granite City.

Miss Wasylyak honored

Miss Charleen Lorry Wasylyak, a May bride to be, was honored with a shower, held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sues by Miss Veronica Sues and her mother.

A handmade parasol in shades of white and pale violet accented the gift table. A milk glass vase, filled with freshly cut lilacs and pink and white tulips complemented the luncheon table.

Champagne was served and a toast made to the bride to be.

Gifts were opened by Miss Wasylyak, followed by games. Prizes were won by Misses Cheryl Schaus, Charleen Wasylyak and Mary Ellen Sudthoff. Refreshments were served.

Among those attending were Mesdames Mack Coulter, Charles Wasylyak and Mike Coulter.

Miss Wasylyak will become the bride of Jeffrey Coulter on May 12.

95% of state transit funds going to 6 northern counties

State Comptroller Roland W. Burris reported during the weekend that funding of mass transportation in Illinois has almost tripled since fiscal year 1972 and that 95 cents out of every mass transit dollar is now going to the six-county Regional Transit Authority in and around Chicago.

The new monthly fiscal report of the comptroller takes a special close-up look at the funding of mass transportation in Illinois and then focuses on still-rising state tax revenues and a detailed analysis of state spending compared with last year.

Here are some of the highlights of the report: — In the last four years, the state has spent an average of $164 million for mass transportation, a dramatic increase since FY 1972, when expenditures totaled only $33.8 million.

—What happened to the $375 million mass transportation-aviation bond issue authorized by the General Assembly in 1971? Almost one-third of it — $120 million — is still available.

—How much of the mass transit dollar goes Downstate? Since the Downstate Public Transportation Fund was established in fiscal 1975 to support transit systems outside the RTA Area, annual payments to the Downstate systems have averaged $5.5 million.

—State funding of mass transportation in the six RTA counties of Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake, McHenry and Will has increased almost sixfold, from $30.3 million in FY 1972 to $178.3 million in fiscal 1978, underscoring the fact that almost two-thirds of the state's total population is concentrated in the six-county area.

—While State support of the RTA has increased rapidly, the number of revenue passengers served has no changed dramatically, increasing only 1.9 percent since FY 1972.

—Total support of mass transportation in Illinois from federal, state and local funds has almost tripled since fiscal 1972, with 95.7 percent of the current funds distributed to the RTA.

While some economic storm clouds continue to darken, the state's General Funds are running far ahead of the three previous fiscal years.

The $383 million available balance on March 31, 1979, is the highest end-of-March balance in the history of the General Funds and the highest month-end balance since Sept. 30, 1974, Burris said.

Where are the revenue increases coming from? Income tax receipts are up 11.6 percent; sales taxes up 10.2 percent; utility taxes have climbed 15.8 percent; inheritance taxes have risen 36.9 percent; investment income is up a striking 65.9 percent; and federal aid has increased 22.7 percent from settlement of earlier social service claims.

Other key fiscal findings: —Road fund balances are up only slightly.

—The cost of operating state government is up 14.4 percent over the same nine-month period last year.

The biggest dollar increases are for personal services. Data processing spending shows the largest percentage drop.

Community development vital to Quad-Cities, county

Federal aid programs aren't perfect but the assistance coordinated by the Madison County Community Development Department has accomplished much for area municipalities and townships. The scope of the development activities was outlined at Tuesday's Granite City Rotary luncheon by Cheryl Jouett, assistant director and financial manager, who was introduced by County Board Member Daniel Bartney, Director is Mary Kane.

In District Two, one of five districts in Madison County, current allocations cover a three-year period. A breakdown follows:

Chouteau Township — sewer tapons $137,000. Venice Township — housing rehabilitation in the Eagle Park NSA (neighborhood strategy area, $55,000. Nameoki Township — Cloverleaf NSA $60,000 (1979) and $50,000 (1980). State Park neighborhood revitalization $120,000 and Eagle Park NSA $60,000 (1979) and $49,000 (1980).

Granite City — Old Town and West Granite NSA $562,000 and construction of 19th Street overpass $550,000. Madison — housing rehabilitation $50,000. Venice — housing rehabilitation $55,000 and senior center construction $55,000.

Madison County Community Development funding of projects in 1975 through 1978 in District Two have been as follows:

Chouteau — Community Center construction $12,500, $53,039 and $57,962 and construction of drainage channels $30,000.

Nameoki — Long Lake fire service $36,174, playground acquisition $6,000, Long Lake fire building construction $36,113 and $64,574. State Park fire prevention equipment $10,000 and fire trucks $11,113 and $30,174, housing rehabilitation $15,000, $3,400 and $20,000 and Cloverleaf neighborhood revitalization $22,684.

Venice Township — fire protection service $681, Eagle Park lighting $3,887 and $262, Eagle Park housing rehabilitation $15,000, $12,000 and $50,000, Eagle Park park improvement $23,467, Eagle Park community improvement $35,000, Benjamin Addition community improvement $45,613 and neighborhood revitalization in Eagle Park, $83,000.

Granite City — sewer reconstruction $77,614, $200,000 and $100,467, grade separation project $40,000, $47,088 and $100,000, consultant, $750, housing restoration $40,000, $6,400 and $60,000, surface drainage $210,000 and Old Town revitalization $87,700.

Madison — urban renewal acquisition $14,358, $18,000, $39,762 and $18,000, downtown development planning $7,471 and $2,400, housing rehabilitation $197,737, relocation $3,027 and $22,000, fire equipment purchase $29,000, construction of shopping center mall $133,000 and economic development of Fox Industrial Park and old Nickel Plate yard $100,000.

City of Venice — McKinley Bridge reconstruction $16,068 and $28,595.

sidewalk improvements $53,902 and housing rehabilitation $17,500 and $160,000.

Pontoon Beach — surface drainage $7,589 and $17,006 and street improvements $136,895.

The block grant program was created by the U. S. Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 and is administered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Its primary goal is the development of viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, plus expansion of economic opportunities, principally for persons of low and moderate income.

It provides flexibility and discretion by local government officials in utilizing grant funds, but requires them to assume the responsibility for identifying overall community needs, and to develop and meet those needs, and distribute available resources in the most effective manner.

Madison County, in cooperation with the public and elected mayors and township supervisors, established a comprehensive citizen participation system to include all communities and areas of the county. Residents and employees comment on the nature, type and purpose of the activities and their value to the area affected.

Citizens also help develop each three-year community development plan, housing assistance plans and the annual development program.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer has commented, "Since early 1975, when the Madison County Board voted to sponsor the federally-funded program, we have applied for and received over $10,500,000 in grants for use throughout the county — including almost $6 million in cities, $2 million in townships, $760,000 for countywide projects and $425,000 for county government projects. Administration and planning have required only $380,000.

"Examples of projects are the 2 1/2 percent low-interest loan program for to rehabilitate their homes, and the road reference program which provides all rural roads with a reference number and sign according to a uniform system, allowing for faster response by emergency vehicles to all parts of the county.

"The county government has used its allocation to make county buildings more accessible to the handicapped, to provide added free parking to citizens who visit county facilities. Cities and townships have carried out water and sewer installations, housing improvements, downtown and neighborhood redevelopment, community center construction, regional parks, and road and bridge rebuilding.

"I am proud of the role the County Board plays as the prime sponsor, and I am encouraged by the great cooperation of city and township officials. This is the best example of local government cooperation I have seen between the county, cities and townships for the mutual benefit of all citizens."

School fund in jeopardy — governor

Governor James R. Thompson made a special appeal to Congress Tuesday to save $2.3 billion in general revenue sharing funds that are in jeopardy of being cut. Items of business were conducted.

The board discussed the reinvestment of a portion of a time certificate which will come due on May 7. It was decided to reinvest $80,000 of the $100,000 certificate and to transfer the remaining amount into the operational fund of the park.

The board awarded a contract to Barnett's Termite and Pest Control for the treatment of the park office building to control termite infestation. The work is guaranteed for a period of five years.

Arrest man with hatchet

Otis B. Williams, 74, of 1808 Courtney Blvd., was charged with a state charge of aggravated assault after he allegedly struck his daughter with his hand and then threatened her with a hatchet at his home at 8:45 a.m. Wednesday.

The daughter, Wilma Scrum, 618 Fleming Place, Mitchell, signed a complaint against her father, alleging that after he struck her with his hand, he chased her in the home with the hatchet.

Police arrived and allegedly found Williams setting the hatchet down.

He was taken to the Granite City Jail and at 12:30 a.m. today he was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center because he was upset, police said.

$2,500 FIRE DAMAGE

Fire caused an estimated $2,500 damage to the Henry Ross Construction Co. office in the Tri-Mor Bowl building, 3701 Nameoki road, at 1:10 a.m. Wednesday. An electrical short-circuit is suspected as the cause of the fire, which was in an outside wall. Granite City firemen were on scene one hour and five minutes.

Sykes GC park president

The Granite City Board of Park Commissioners met last evening and elected George Sykes, 39, 3524 Johnson Road, as president for 1979-80.

Jake Hinterser, outgoing president, presided during the first portion of the meeting at which several items of business were conducted.

The board discussed the reinvestment of a portion of a time certificate which will come due on May 7. It was decided to reinvest $80,000 of the $100,000 certificate and to transfer the remaining amount into the operational fund of the park.

The board awarded a contract to Barnett's Termite and Pest Control for the treatment of the park office building to control termite infestation. The work is guaranteed for a period of five years.

Approval of the use of the park tennis courts by Granite City High School South to conduct a boys' district tournament was unanimously given by the board. A letter from Roger Smith, athletic director at South, asked for the use. The tournament will be conducted on Friday, May 18, and Saturday, May 19.

Hinterser resigned his position and Barry Loman, senior member of the board, was selected as temporary chairman of the board to conduct the reorganization. Jack Hood and David Nolan, both elected to the board in April 17 balloting, were sworn in by Board Secretary Frank Rea.

Sykes was then nominated for the position of president and was elected unanimously. Elected as vice president was John "Jeff" Worthen. Sykes has been on the board since 1975 and Worthen was seated in 1977. Both men are lifelong residents of Granite City and attended local schools.

Harold Brown, director of parks and recreation, was reappointed to that position at a yearly salary of $20,878. Also reappointed to their previous positions were Randall Robertson as secretary and John Mink as treasurer. Their salaries for the year will be $5,746 and $4,706, respectively.

All three salaries reflect a five percent increase over last year's.

Randall Robertson was reappointed as the board's attorney. His salary was set at $5,200 which also reflects the five percent increase.

The meeting was then recessed until Thursday, May 10, at which time bids will be opened calling for the installation of a fence at the park swimming pool and other matters concerning the pool program and policies will be discussed. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. at the park office.

Another dismissal by Byron

Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Stephanie Robbins was terminated from the staff of Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron Wednesday morning after taking her oath of office as an Edgewood alderman Tuesday night.

Byron told the Press-Record, "It is unfortunate that I was shocked by what Stephanie Robbins and Don Weber (who was dismissed previously for becoming a commissioner of Collinsville), but we have an attorney general's opinion saying there is a conflict of interest with those offices."

Byron said the jobs of assistant state's attorneys Casper Nighossian, who is city attorney for Madison, and Don Smith, who is attorney for Wood River Township, have been reviewed by himself and a decision has been made, but he added, "I think you understand, I don't want to announce it until I have had a chance to tell them myself."

"We asked for the opinion whether the elected positions were of potential conflict with the job of assistant state's attorney on the request of Weber, who wanted to be sure there was no conflict. It was shocked when it came back saying there was a conflict. I have asked for a revised opinion, but feel I have no choice at this time other than to dismiss them until we receive a modification or new opinion from the attorney general."

"At one time I heard they might reconsider, but I have not received any confirmation," Byron said.

"The public has to understand the importance of attorney general's opinions to our office, particularly if we request them. My civil department uses the attorney general's opinions every day."

"We hope for reconsideration on the basis the two would not handle cases from the cities they represented. It is unfortunate this whole thing had to happen. Both are good prosecutors."

"The thing I don't like is the intimation to the public that anyone in this office, including myself, is indispensable. There are many fine young lawyers out there."

"After Stephanie took the oath of office, I called Ed Maag from Belleville, who is her attorney, and told him I hoped the dismissal was not final. He agreed to see what he could do at Springfield to see if they would reconsider their opinion and issue a modification."

"We agreed my firing of Stephanie would be subject to any modification of the opinion."

"She came in and talked to me Wednesday morning and I told her I hoped we could bring her back. She felt it appropriate she be fired and we talked about reconsideration of the incident by the attorney general's office. Meanwhile, I have had her cases covered by someone else," Byron concluded.

Leipziger is new MBA president

Dave Leipziger, of Glik's Department Stores, was elected president of the Madison Business Association (MBA) Tuesday morning.

Leipziger has been with Glik's for 27 years, including when the department store chain had only the store in Madison. There are now 12 Glik's stores.

Leipziger and his wife, Susan, have two children—a son, Dr. Robert Bruce Leipziger, a dentist in St. Louis, and a daughter, Mrs. Judy Presberg, who is in advertising work with a St. Louis department store.

Prior to joining Glik's, Leipziger was merchandising manager for the Wohl Shoe Company.

Prior to his election as president he served as chairman of the MBA advertising committee.

Wayne Scannell, the retiring president and founder of MBA, has accepted the position with the group as advertising committee chairman.

Scannell is the owner and operator of Wayne's Men's Wear in Madison.

The association is now in the third year of operation. Jack Friedman, owner and operator of Friedman's Hardware and Friedman's Early American Shop, was elected vice-president.

Pauline Harris, of Automotive Safety Services, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk spoke to the MBA and asked for support in a plan to buy new Christmas decorations in the downtown Madison area. The mayor is raising, through the MBA and local civic organizations between $3,000 and $9,000 for the decorations.

Scannell called a meeting of his committee for 8 a.m. Tuesday, May 8, at Daley's Paint, Wallpaper and Gifts, 417 Madison Ave. Tentative plans are being made for Madison Alpine Days in the month of July.

Sentenced for 1975 murder

James E. King, 34, a former Venice resident, was sentenced Monday to serve 27 1/2 years in prison after pleading guilty to second-degree murder in the fatal shooting of his wife in a St. Louis ice cream parlor Sept. 22, 1975.

King was convicted by a jury of first-degree murder in St. Louis after the shooting and was sentenced to life imprisonment, but a Missouri appeals court overturned the conviction on the basis the judge failed to inform jurors they could find him guilty of a lesser offense, including second-degree murder or manslaughter.

The appeals court also recommended that the Missouri Supreme Court revise its rules on instructing juries in first-degree murder cases.

The Supreme Court did revise its guidelines, mandating instructions to juries on lesser crimes, and ordered a new trial for King. King pleaded guilty to second-degree murder before St. Louis Circuit Judge Landland Bloom, cancelling the necessity for a new trial.

BULLETIN

Tri-City Grocery Company's 11 stores may be leased to General Grocery Co., St. Louis, with the fixtures sold to General Grocery, the Press-Record learned at mid-day today. The transaction is not final, and store operations will continue unchanged in the meantime.

No effective date for the lease plan has been set.

Tavern owners annual dinner-dance Friday

Madison County Tavern Owners Association will sponsor its annual dinner-dance celebrating "National Tavern Month," at 7 p.m. Friday at the Madison County Firemen's Hall, 9510 Collinsville Road, Collinsville.

The event, which usually attracts a capacity crowd, this year features entertainment by song stylist Sherry Drake and dancing to the music of The Marksmen and a 12 piece orchestra.

Proceeds from the evening will be donated to the Sky Ranch for Boys, a youth community in Montana that aids neglected and abandoned boys, mostly from large metropolitan areas. A donation of $20 per person includes a New York steak dinner, catered by Charlie's Restaurant.

Many gifts are given during the dinner-dance, including a trip for two to Hawaii, plus $1,000 expense money, according to Charles Hester, association president.

DEDICATE BRAILLE CENTER ON SUNDAY

The Metro Central Braille Center will be dedicated Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Concordia Lutheran Church, Granite City.

The dedicatory address will be by Southern Illinois District President Alvin V. Kallmann. The center is the 125th affiliated with the Lutheran Braille Workers, Yucaipa, Calif. It plans to print the Revelation of John in Braille.

Aussies are coming, and they're good

GRANITE CITY — An Australian national championship team is coming to Granite City.

The 1978 Australian Under-16 National Championship Team will be here Friday, May 11 for a game with the Southern Illinois Under-18 Select team, made up of boys from Granite City and surrounding area. The game is set for 8 p.m. at Memorial Stadium on the campus of Granite City South High School.

The Australian team will arrive in the United States tomorrow (May 4) in San Francisco. After playing exhibition games there, the Aussies will travel to Los Angeles, St. Louis, New York and Connecticut in their cross country swing.

While in the St. Louis area, the Australian team will play three games. On May 8, it will face the Frisco Select team from St. Louis. On May 10, it will play the "B" squad of the same team.

The Australians will probably stay at the homes of various members of the Southern Illinois Select Team, according to Andy Gasparovich, a local coordinator of the event.

The team was invited to St. Louis by Don Aubushon of the St. Louis Youth Soccer Association.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets to the game will be split between the Select Team, and the Booster Clubs from Granite City North and South High Schools.

The training habits of the Australian team are unique.

The youngsters meet every Sunday back home ("down-under"), practice all morning, and then play games against Under-18 year old teams all afternoon. The reason for the all-day practices is that some members of the team must travel over 350 miles to practice.

Over a three-month span, the team's record is 27-3. One of its losses came 2-0 at the hands of the Australian Under-19 team that is presently taking part in Mini-World Cup competition.

BAD DAY. Granite City North baseball coach Bob Stegemeyer argues with the home plate umpire Tuesday during his team's game with GC South (top). Later, North's Patterson goes down after being hit by a South pitch delivered by Al Young. In all, four North batters were hit by South pitchers. But South was hitting the ball too in its 7-3 win.

Many youngsters to compete in P, H and R

GRANITE CITY — Many youngsters, ages 9-12 are expected to compete in Major League Baseball's Pitch, Hit and Run local competition to be held in Wilson Park here in case of bad weather the competition will be held for 9 and 10 year olds on May 26, and for 11 and 12 year olds on May 27.

Pitch, Hit and Run is Major League Baseball's official youth program. It is sponsored by Burger King Restaurants. The program is also co-sponsored by the National Recreation and Park Association and developed in cooperation with the President's Council on Physical Fitness.

All youngsters compete in three skill categories: pitching at a target, running the base path for speed and hitting for distance.

The local competition is the first step on the road to competition for national titles before thousands of people during the All-Star Game festivities July 17 in Seattle.

Local competitions will be held throughout May at more than 1,700 sites across the country. The PHAR competition for Granite City will be conducted by Gary Granddier and Chuck Vanderplum.

Four local finalists from each site will advance to district competitions, to be held between June 1-16. Each district will send eight champions on to division competitions at 12 Major League ballparks between June 21-July 7.

Eight division winners will compete during All-Star game festivities in Seattle, where they and their families will be guests of Major League baseball and Burger King and get to meet both All-Star teams.

The 9-10 year old will compete May 19 at 1 p.m. Those 11-12 years old will compete at 1 p.m. May 20.

Soccer clinic set

GRANITE CITY — The fourth annual Midwest Soccer Clinic will hold a session in Granite City July 9-13, according to clinic director Gene Baker.

The clinic will run Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and is open for boys and girls ages 8 through high school.

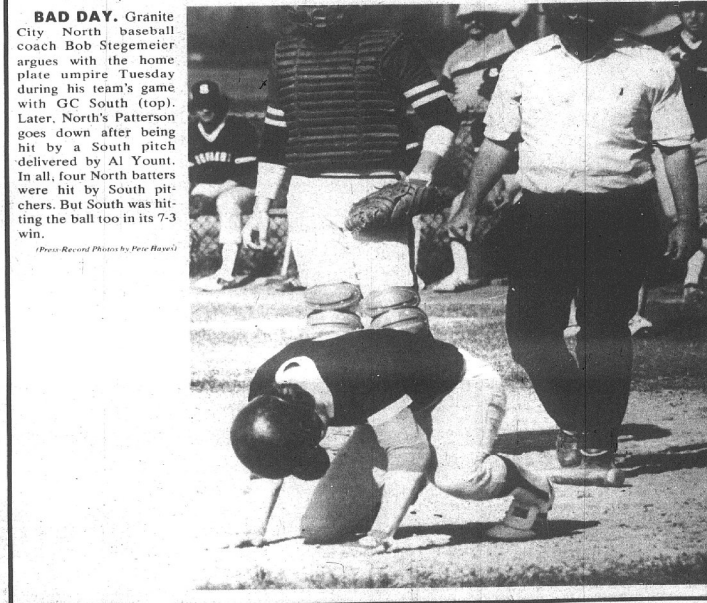

In addition to the sessions in Granite City, there will be clinics held in Blue Springs, Mo., Kansas City, Mo., Bonner Springs, Kansas and Lee's Summit, Mo.

Baker, head soccer coach at Granite City High School South, comes into the clinic having won the Illinois State Soccer Championship three years in a row. He has the most victories and highest winning percentage among Illinois high school coaches.

Tocco is the head soccer coach at Rockhurst College in Kansas City. He is one of the most successful young coaches in the collegiate ranks.

Several of the objectives at the clinics will be: to instill high athletic attitudes and interest and more intelligent soccer play; to establish a friendly, yet industrious rapport among the clinic workers and the young athletes; and to use fundamentally-sound teaching devices, while at the same time being enjoyable and challenging.

For more information, those interested may contact Baker at (314) 355-2374.

Baseball seedings are released

EDWARDSVILLE — Seedings for the IHSA Class AA baseball Regional for this area were determined here Tuesday at a meeting of the coaches of participating teams.

Granite City South, by virtue of having defeated every team in the region it has played at least once, was given the top seed.

Edwardsville was seeded second, and Granite City North was the third seed.

Alton was given the fourth spot.

Despite having the best win-loss record in the field, GC North was given the third seed on the basis of having two of its three losses come at the hands of Edwardsville's Tigers. North has a record of 12-3.

The rest of the seeds went like this: Wood River 5th, Roxana 6th, Bethalto 7th and Jerseyville 8th.

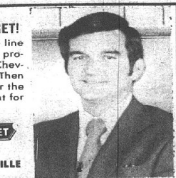

The top four seeds will each have the home-field advantage when the regional opens May 17 at four separate sites at 4 p.m. The four winners will meet May 19 at 10 a.m. at Alton High for the semifinal games. The championship game will be held Monday, May 21 at 4 p.m.

North netters win

TROY — Granite City North's boys tennis team came through with a 4-1 victory over Triad High School here Tuesday afternoon.

North got singles singles wins from Dave Rogenski, Jim Sparks and Chris Rogenski and a doubles triumph by the duo of Mark French and Fred Trittschuh to walk away with the easy victory.

MIKE MURRAY

Orphan finds a 'home'

By AL BARNES for the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Mike Murray, a 6-2, 170-pound basketball player from that hotbed of the hardwood sport, Centralia, has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this autumn, according to the Cougars' cage coach, Jim Dudley.

The leading scorer in the legendary Centralia-Holiday Tournament this past Christmas, the sharp-shooting Murray poured in 90 points in four games. He was also top point-maker in the Salem Invitational Tournament.

A three-year starter on the Centralia varsity, he led the Orphans in scoring in both his junior and senior campaigns. Overall, his senior year, he was second in both assists and in steals.

Murray was a unanimous choice for first team honors in both his junior and senior years on the South Seven all-conference team.

His statistics seem to more than bear out Dudley's judgment on Murray: "Mike is an excellent shooter from an outstanding basketball school. He'll be used at a wing position in our Cougar offense. He's a good ball-handler and is extremely quick, which explains, of course, his great number of 'steals' each season."

Murray averaged 12 points a game as a junior and zoomed up to 17 in his final year. At the free throw line, he was tops with a 76 shooting percentage.

CORRECTION
In a story in Monday's Press-Record Sports, it was announced that an Australian all-star soccer team will be visiting Granite City on May 11 to do battle with an Under-18 select team from this area. However, the Australian team in fact is NOT an all-star team, but a regulation team that won the Australian national championship for its age group.

HERE YOU GO, SON. Granite City North Coach Bob Stegemeier (left) hands the bat to his son, Bob Jr., a player for GC South, after a rubarb at home plate with the umpire Tuesday after South's Jeff Treter had hit his second home run of the game, just before Bob Jr. stepped to the plate. He argued that Treter was out of the batter's box when he hit the homer.

Father and son mean excitement, thrills

GRANITE CITY — Bob Stegemeier Jr., of the Granite City South Warriors, broke out of fielding and hitting slumps in a spectacular way in the Warriors game against the Granite City North Stealers, Tuesday.

You couldn't blame his father if he was less than overjoyed by the feat however, because Bob Sr. is the coach of the Stealers.

Coach Stegemeier was diplomatic about the whole affair. "I thought Bob played very well," he said. "He certainly redeemed himself from last time."

The older Stegemeier was referring to the last game between the City's rivals in the South Invitational Tournament, which North won, 6-3. In that meeting, Bob Jr., playing second base, committed an error, which led to a run, and went 1 for 2 at bat.

In the interim, Bob Jr. struggled. He was moved to designated hitter, then to left field.

But Tuesday, he was 3 for 4 at the plate, including a triple, and a run scored. Bob Jr. was obviously charged up for the game. "It's North really," he said, "not my dad. The North-South rivalry is what gets you up."

In addition to his impressive hitting display, Bob Jr. made a diving catch of a sinking line drive off the bat of North's Don Greco in the fourth. After the tumbling grab he held the glove ball aloft, displaying the trophy.

The Warriors' Jeff Treter led off the next inning with a home run, to which coach Stegemeier took objection. He engaged the home plate umpire in a rather lengthy conversation, claiming Treter was out of the batter's box when he hit the homer.

The dispute ended in frustration for the coach and Stegemeier finally handed the bat he was using to illustrate his point in the dust around the plate to the next South batter, his son.

Bob Jr. promptly lined a triple to right field.

South went on to win the game, 7-3. Afterward, Bob Jr. was asked how he and his father would handle the situation when they got home. "The last time he took it pretty easy on me," he said. "So I guess I'll probably do the same thing."

Hendin to be guest speaker at Mitchell

MITCHELL — The annual Mitchell baseball parade, opening the Mitchell Athletic Club's season, will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 19 at the Mitchell School.

Parade entries include Emil Toffant, sheriff of Madison County and leader of the parade, truck units and marching units from the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department, Boy Scout Troop 41, a 20 piece band from Musicians' Local 717, the Shrine Rolling Nobles, Shrine Company Units, Mini Clowns, Convertibles and a Racing Van.

Officials taking part in the parade will be Senator Sam Vadalabene (Master of Ceremonies), Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, State Rep. Sam Wolfe, Willard "Butch" Portell, circuit clerk, Sheriff Toffant and Harry Briggs, superintendent of the educational service of Madison Co.

Gordon "Piccolo" Petri, Routh parade chairman, notes that the parade will move east along Chain of Rocks Road in Mitchell to Greenway Drive and then south two blocks to the baseball diamond.

Officials will speak to the players and will observe the crowning of the new queen for the 1979 season, before exhibition contests are played.

In some case of rain, the ceremonies will be held that day at the Mitchell Fire Department.

The special guest speaker at the parade will be Marty Hendin, director of promotions for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hendin has been with the Cardinals since 1973. At that time, he was assistant director of public relations. He was named director of promotions in January, 1978. He is a 1970 graduate of the University of Missouri-St. Louis (B.A. in American History). He is also immediate past president of the UMSL Alumni Association. Hendin and his wife Roma live in St. Louis County with their son Robbie.

Sikes

SIUE and the main part of the schedule, Sikes has dropped down for 37 since the rash struck.

Momentum in hitting is very important, there's no doubt of it. Just ask any hitter from Stan Musial to Ted Williams. The good-natured Sikes, who plans a career making maps for the federal government as a cartographer, doesn't feel bitter about what happened to him. And, he shouldn't.

After all, he's just one point below the team's combined (.270) batting average. He's the club's slugging leader with four doubles, one triple and a pair of fourbaggers. And he's a leader in the team's important runs-batter-in category. Bill Stolle's 15 is tops, while Larry Maden and Tony Fugh are next with 14 each. Sikes is next with 13.

The main part of Sikes' frustration with the slump was this: he had hoped to prove to himself as well as his teammates that he should have been playing regularly for the Cardinals the past two years.

"Last year," he explained, "I got only four chances to hit and most of those were in games where it wouldn't have meant any difference anyway." He continued: "I'm not bitter, of course. I just know that I could have made a positive contribution had I been used more in both my junior and sophomore years."

Now, with a disappointing 11-16 record for the Cougars, Sikes still is optimistic that he and his teammates can mount a winning streak which will land them a bid to a post-season tournament.

Hopes springs eternal. Or is it a case of rash thinking?

Deterding wins SIU-C award

CARBONDALE — Granite Cityan Robin Deterding, a junior on the Southern Illinois University-Carbondale volleyball and softball teams, won the SIU-C Virginia Gordon Award at a banquet here Sunday night.

The award is a memorial tribute to an SIU-C athlete of the late 1960s who died of a brain tumor in 1974.

It was the second straight year Deterding had won the award.

Other awards went to Sue Faber, volleyball sophomore basketball player, as the Woman Athlete of the Year, and to Ann Stribling of the track and field hockey teams as Outstanding Leader and Athlete of the Year.

Car frames give a better ride with no weight penalty

(Frame Forum—A. O. Smith Plant)
Few material things have been as important to America as the automobile. Its manufacture was the root of our industrial growth, and for decades now it has been the central support of our economy. We are all tied to the automobile by history, by business, by emotion.

This appropriate quote by William Harrah, the late owner of one of the largest and most famous antique car collections in America, pretty well pinpoints why all eyes are on the 1985 fuel economy requirements for cars established by the federal government.

Automobile buyers and manufacturers alike know that the automobile of the future—its look, its size, its weight, its power source, its drive system, its cost—will be molded in the next five years to the greatest extent by mpg (miles per gallon) standards.

General Motors alone is spending $4 billion annually in research and development to meet the 1985 corporate mileage goals of 27.5 mpg. In a recent interview article in Automotive Industries, GM's president and chief operating officer, Pete Estes, went into detail on some of his company's plans and projects in meeting this challenge.

GM, like other auto manufacturers, has looked into various types of engines as an alternative to the piston engine.

Only a few years ago it spent millions on the development of a rotary engine before abandoning the project due to less efficient performance and emissions problems. Today, GM is producing cars with diesel engines in small volume and eventually sees them on all its product lines.

Perhaps the diesel provides some hope for "big cars" of the future. According to Estes, "The diesel has honest fuel savings" and, therefore, is extremely important for the country from an energy point of view.

Unfortunately, the diesel engine does have one major potential drawback—an emission which some people say could be harmful to health. GM officials are requesting reasonable standards and reasonable time so that the health effect can be determined and so they can continue their research to reduce particulates.

It is important for the diesel engine to survive and help solve the nation's energy problems because it may be the most economical way to save energy.

Another way GM plans to meet the mpg standards is through continuing to downsize and re-engineer its cars for reduced weight and therefore better mpg.

As frame manufacturers, we have seen size reductions in "B" cars to old "A" size and "A" to a smaller version during the last major model change.

Our product engineering department is keeping pace with this downsizing by rebuilding smaller cars to include full frames for quality-of-ride demonstrations.

Most recently, we rebuilt a Mercury Zephyr compact and are making it available to our customers to compare its ride quality with that of the production, integral-frame model.

Such programs are ongoing in an effort to secure our future as a frame manufacturer. Every program so far has shown better ride performance at no weight penalty.

Aluminum is another means the manufacturers are turning to for weight reduction. A. O. Smith, too, is producing aluminum frames in small numbers for experimentation. Aluminum is extremely expensive, however, and companies like GM are keeping extensive use of it on the back burner.

We have covered a few of the ways GM, our largest customer, is trying to meet the challenge of 1985: GM is still trying to keep its customers' wants in mind in addition to gearing up to government regulations.

In this regard, they are trying to buy more time to get at the heart of the problems in meeting the magic 27.5 mpg.

Steele selection brings energy resource panel to full strength

Representative Everett G. Steele (R, Glen Carbon) has been appointed to the Illinois Energy Resources Commission by House Minority Leader George H. Ryan. Steele's appointment brings the commission membership to full strength for this session.

Rep. Steele is a member of the House Appropriations II Committee and the House Transportation Committee. He also serves as a member of the House Legislative Council.

Steele is a graduate of Washington University with a degree in government.

Before serving in the legislature, Steele was a real estate developer.

Steele is enthusiastic about his appointment to the Energy Resources Commission. "I am looking forward to working closely with the energy legislation that the commission has endorsed this session," Steele said.

"I also hope to assist the ERC in looking at other promising coal-use technologies, such as the kiln gas system to be constructed near East Alton, to determine whether or not state financial participation in these projects would be advisable."

Steele is currently serving his third term in the Illinois House of Representatives. He is a Granite City High School graduate.

Services for son, father and friend

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. today for a father, son and friend who were fatally injured at 10:15 p.m. Sunday on Route 3, just north of the Hartford Canal bridge.

The triple service was for Arley Potts, 60, of 802 Niagara St., East Alton; his son, Alvin A. Potts, 33, of 822 Pine St., East Alton, both former residents of Granite City; and David N. Icke, 25, of 802 Niagara St., East Alton.

All three men were pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Deputy Coroner David Smith of Wood River.

Illinois State Police said they were told Mr. Icke's vehicle was northbound on Route 3 when a southbound truck, operated by Ted Williams, 30, of Okla., crossed into the northbound lane and collided head-on with Mr. Icke's car.

The truck driver sustained injuries and was taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Alton for treatment.

Mr. Arley Potts was employed as a crane operator at ACH Industries American Car Works in St. Louis.

Talk on rape center tonight

Pam Klein, director of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Judy McNeilly of Granite City will speak at a monthly meeting of the Metro East chapter of the National Organization for Women tonight at 7:30 at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, St. Louis & Vandavia, Edwardsville.

Since the establishment of the Rape and Sexual Abuse Center in 1977, the issue of rape has received more visibility and attention, the conviction rate of rapists has gone up, and widespread education of the public has broadened, advocates say. The center has counseled over 165 people in the past year and a half.

For more information concerning this program, Quad-Cityans may call Norma Mendoza at 422-7885 or Peggy Patty at 228-3365.

Home Offices: Bloomington, Ill.

He was a member of Bethel Temple Church and had moved to East Alton only two months ago from Granite City. He formerly resided in the 1800 block of State Street.

Mr. Arley Potts was born in Elvins, Mo., and had lived for some years in this area. He was a veteran of World War II.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Georgia Potts; two sons, David B. Potts of Granite City and Dwayne Potts of Breese, Ill.; three brothers, Clifford Potts of Madison, Clarence Potts of Granite City and Adolph Potts of California; three sisters, Mrs. Radie Cochran of Salem, Mo., Mrs. Iva Hoffman of Ocala, Fla., and Mrs. Crystal Rainey of California; and four grandchildren.

His son, Alvin A. Potts, was born in Granite City, attended local schools and resided here for most of his life.

He was employed by Don Barton Trucking Co. of South Roxana and was a member of Teamsters Union Local 525.

Mr. Alvin Potts is survived by his wife, Mrs. Esther (Maple) Potts; two brothers, David B. Potts of Granite City and Dwayne Potts of Breese; one sister, Miss Pam Potts of Granite City; and his stepmother, Mrs. Georgia Potts of East Alton. Mr. Icke was born in East St. Louis.

He was employed at Don Barton Trucking in South Roxana as an operator and was a member of Teamsters Local 525.

Mr. Icke is survived by his wife, Mrs. Deborah B. (Schmidt) Icke; and five brothers, Francis, Donald and Michael Icke, all of East Alton, Walter Icke of New Mexico and Ronald Icke of Centerville.

Funeral details are given in the obituary column.

Park summer pre-school registration slated May 8

The Granite City Park District will have pre-school registration on Tuesday, May 8, at the Wilson Park office beginning at 9 a.m. for the summer session beginning June 1 and running for seven weeks.

There also will be a class for children who are currently attending kindergarten. Registration for this class will be at the same time as the pre-school program.

Parents interested in enrolling their child in either of these classes must do so in person and present proof of residence, such as a current utility bill, and the child's birth certificate.

A child must be four years old before June 1 in order to qualify for the pre-school session. Classes will be limited to 35 per session and enrollment will be on a first come, first serve basis.

Anyone living out of the Granite City Park District will be placed on a waiting list and will be notified on June 12 if there are still openings.

Classes will meet at the Namoki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos Avenues, with morning classes held from 9:30 until 11:30 and afternoon classes from 1 until 3. During the seven-week period, there will be field trips, picnics and sessions at the Wilson Park

Swimming pool. Registration for the fall pre-school program will be in August, with the exact date to be announced later.

SYSTEMS ANALYST (A-177). The Bi-State Development Agency is in the initial stages of a multi year program to develop and implement an integrated financial and management information system. To accomplish this requires upgrading to a medium scale computer and expanding the systems analysis and design capabilities of the MIS staff. To get our program into high gear we need to add, immediately, two experienced systems analyst professionals. Initial assignments will involve implementation of two accounting application software packages, general ledger and payroll. Following this will be the development of a materials management system and a vehicle maintenance system. Our program offers technical challenge, diversity and the opportunity to test and expand your professional capabilities. In return we seek an individual who possesses the following qualifications: minimum of three years progressive systems analysis, design and implementation experience. A knowledge of programming (COBOL), data base design and on-line processing would be a plus. The ability to effectively communicate with users in order to define and translate their requirements into sound systems design. The analytical ability, resourcefulness, and determination to develop creative yet practical systems designs. The self discipline and drive to take the necessary actions to meet schedule completion dates. A bachelors degree in engineering, accounting, business, computer science or related field. We offer a competitive salary ($18,110 to $22,002 annually), a full range of fringe benefits, and a chance to grow. If this is what you are seeking please submit your resume to: A-177, Director of Personnel, Bi-State Development Agency, 3869 Park Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri 63110, not later than May 9, 1979. Those over 60 are a fast-growing segment of population

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)
Q. What is the theme of "Older Americans Month" this year and could you bring me up to date on some facts concerning the status of senior citizens throughout the nation?

A. The theme for "Older Americans Month" is "Better Health Through Better Care." Here are some facts concerning the ever-growing senior citizen population, provided by the federal Administration on Aging:

1. More than 12,000 persons over 100 are alive in America today and about nine million are over 75 years of age. The oldest age groups are increasing faster than any other portion of the population.

2. Today, older Americans number 34 million, whereas there were 4.9 million in 1900.

3. Today, one of every seven persons in America is 60 or over. It will be one in every four Americans in 2035, if projections hold true.

4. The increase in the elderly population increases the incidence of disability, sickness, isolation and low income. The loss of physical health, death of important persons, loss of income, and reduced social status are all facts of life for the aged.

5. Between 3 million and 3½ million older Americans today are on the verge of losing their independent way of life in their homes and communities. They need help in coping with some aspects of their lives if they are to remain independent and not join the millions older Americans already in nursing homes.

6. People 60 years old and more are seven times more numerous today than in 1900.

7. But the 75-plus groups is 10 times larger.

8. And the 85-plus groups is 17 times bigger.

9. A Pennsylvania Welfare Department survey measured problems of mobility in old age and found: Twenty-two percent of persons 65 to 69 years old reported difficulty going up and down stairs. Thirty-five percent of those between 75 and 79 reported difficulty.

10. Studies of institutional care conclude that up to one-third of the million elderly persons already in institutions might be able to live in the community if support services were available.

11. More than 40 percent of all Medicaid expenditures are for long-term care in nursing homes.

12. The specter of losing independence and entering a nursing home is particularly haunting to many of the eight million Americans who live alone, the great majority of them women.

13. The increase in elderly persons living alone has been running three times as fast as the growth in the size of the elderly population.

14. About two-thirds of all widows live alone. And their incomes are generally low. One-fourth live below the federal poverty index.

Quid-Cityans may write or call Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal's Senior Action Centers at 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago 60601 or 3 West Old Town Mall, Springfield 62701 with questions or complaints about any government agency or program. The statewide number is (toll free) 800-252-4565.

West and Gordon Bust Out of Retirement

"The Wild Wild West Revisited," reuniting Robert Conrad and Ross Martin in the starring roles of James West and Artemus Gordon, the intrepid team of 19th-century government underground intelligence agents made famous on CBS's "The Wild Wild West" series of 1965-69, will be broadcast as a special movie presentation, Wednesday, May 9, on CBS.

Guest starring with Conrad and Martin in a highly imaginative and incredible romp through the Old West, are Paul Williams, Harry Morgan, Rene Auberjonois, Jo Ann Harris, Trisha Noble, Jeff MacKay, Susan Blu and Pavla Ustinov. Robert Shields and Lorene Yarnell make a special guest appearance.

In this far-out adventure, West and Gordon are brought out of retirement after 10 years, by Robert T. Malone (Morgan), now the Director of the U.S. Secret Service (someone whom they remember simply as "Skinny").

Malone has received guarded information that clone-like imposters may have been submitted for the crowned heads of Britain, Spain and Russia and that there may well be a bogus President Cleveland in Washington, D.C. That prompts him to send for the famous retired agents.

West is located in Mexico, living a happy, indolent life with a bevy of wives and children, and Gordon is practicing his considerable stage talents in a run-down, traveling wagon show.

The dynamic 1885 duo respond to the summons, and Gordon quickly puts West through a series of rigorous exercises to round him into fighting shape, aboard their old luxurious railroad-car headquarters.

In short order, they're on the trail of their new and cunning adversary, Michelito Loveless Jr. (Williams), the son of their former arch-enemy. They soon find they also must contend with the secret service arms of Britain, Spain and Imperial Russia as they go about their lively investigation.

Michelito Loveless Jr. is more ruthless than his father, but is no less a genius with a driving compulsion to rule the world. He has not only captured the heads of state, but cloned his own copies to rule in their stead. He has also created the world's first $600 people (Shields & Yarnell), who are capable of prodigious feats of strength and are intensely loyal, and he is threatening the world with bombs that can destroy entire cities.

In the course of their investigation, West and Gordon run into a number of beautiful women, including Michelito's sister, Carmalita (Miss Harris); Penelope (Miss Noble), a cool-eyed English beauty and a member of British Intelligence; Nadia (Miss Ustinov), a member of the Russian Intelligence Service, and Gabrielle (Miss Blu), a gorgeous saloon dancer who also works for Michelito.

Robert Conrad returns to his James West role after 10 years. In the interim, he has starred in the series, "The Black Sheep Squadron," and was recently seen as Pasquinel, the French-Canadian trader, in "Centennial." He also starred in the films, "Palm Beach Weekend," "Hotel Madrid" and "You Can't Steal Love," and stars in a new series, "The Duke."

Following "The Wild Wild West," Ross Martin's career diversified. He directed several episodes of "Here's Lucy" and "Love American Style," and appeared in such legitimate theater productions as "Gigi," "The Good Doctor" and "1776." He also starred in several television films, including "The Crooked Hearts," "Yesterday's Child," "Skyway to Death" and "Dying Room Only," among others.

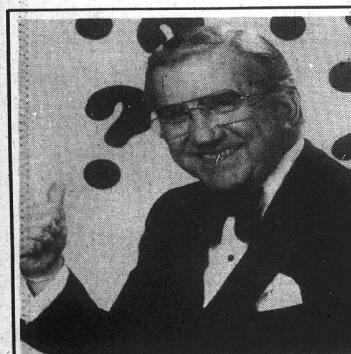

The world's finest thoroughbreds and jockeys match their talents in horse racing's greatest event, in the 105th running of "The Kentucky Derby," airing live on ABC, May 5.

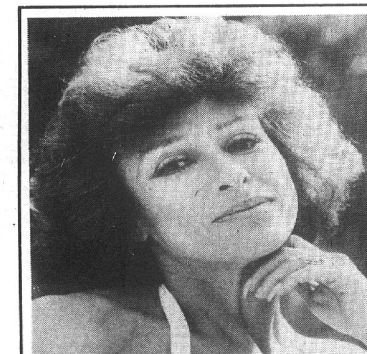

Gene Hackman plays a minister who leads a group of fellow passengers and crew members through the interior of a capsized ocean liner in an effort to reach safety in "The Poseidon Adventure," Sunday, May 6, on NBC.

Sunday

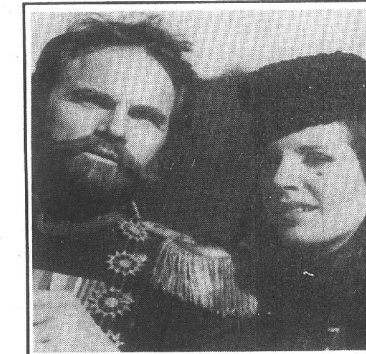

Ed McMahon, who has long been associated with "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson," is the host of NBC's new prime-time mystery show, "Whodunnit?," Monday, May 7, on NBC.

Monday

Rita Moreno stars as a divorced woman whose best friend falls in love with her college-age son, in the romantic drama, "Anatomy of a Seduction," on "The CBS Tuesday Night Movies," May 8.

Tuesday

Pavla Ustinov, daughter of Peter Ustinov, portrays a Russian secret agent and Ted Hartley plays the Tsar, in "The Wild Wild West Revisited," Wednesday, May 9, on CBS.

The Lighter Side

Has bikini but still a paleface

Oh, suntanned skin, what has become of you? The winter's harsh cold has caused my tan marks to fade away. I must get them back. I have found that getting out in the sun is useless until the temperature gets above 80 degrees. I must wait for a sufficiently warm, sunny Saturday.

I sunbathe in my back yard, rarely venturing to the beach because of my body. I am just too skinny to be seen in my bikini. People would most likely mistake me for a 12 year old. In order to avoid the gales of laughter, I do my sun worshipping at home.

Being one of the first to have that beautiful summer skin has always been a challenge for me. When I was a teenager, I used to try to beat my Mom in the suntan department. She worked and I had to go to school. But by April 15 or so, I always managed to have a tan, and that was something, considering that I was raised in Michigan.

Nothing was more important to me then than to beat Mom. I was given to taking a couple of hours off from school, unbeknownst to Mother, of course, to work on my tan.

It was in those teenage years that I discovered that it was a little difficult to turn brown when the temperature outside was 63 degrees. I usually took on a bluish tinge the first day.

These days, being the slightest bit wiser, I wait until the days are in the 80s before I start to work on getting my bikini marks back. I still try to be among the first, but now that I am the one who is working, I never seem to get enough time to lie around in the sun. Not having enough time means I overbake myself when I do have the opportunity to sunbathe. I usually wind up with one heck of a sunburn, causing me to walk funny for a few days.

It would be far wiser of me to take my sun in smaller doses. It is better for the skin and I really get a better tan if the first layer is not a peccoff.

The weather forecast calls for a warming trend. Maybe I can get a start on suntanned skin this weekend. I sure hope so. I would hate to be the last of the palefaces.

GC family's dream house takes shape

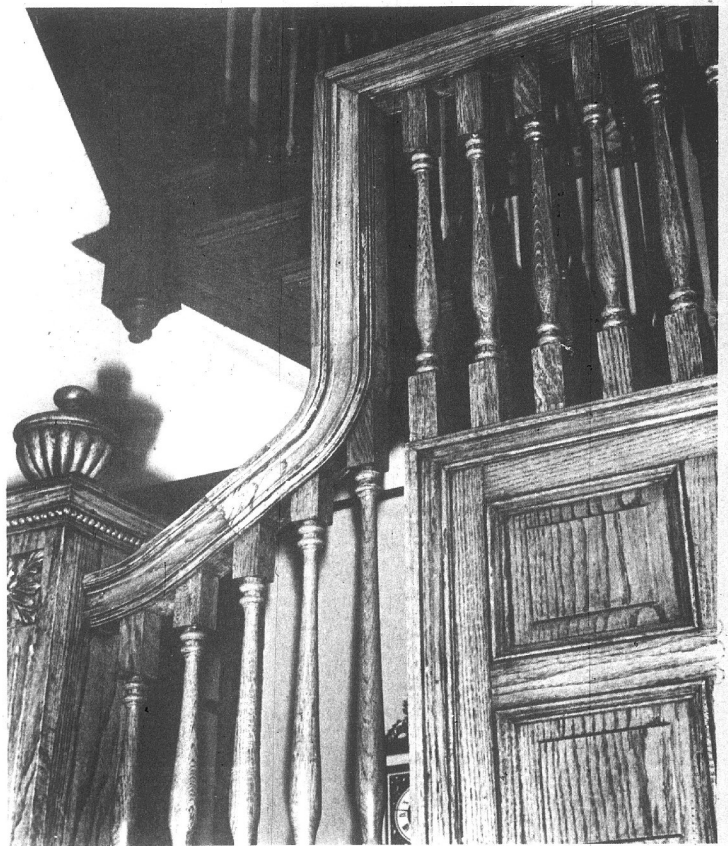

When Ralph and Ladonna Walden bought the house at 2225 Delmar Ave., it was a wreck. The scars of many tenants marked the once grand old home. But the house had a lovely spindled staircase and stained glass windows and Ladonna Walden saw her dream home in the timeworn place. She wanted the house on Delmar. Her husband Ralph told her that they would buy the house, if she would help him with the work of turning it into the grand place it had once been. Mrs. Walden agreed and a short time later, the family moved into the home on Delmar Ave. The Waldens undertook the massive job of restoring the three story frame structure. They were lucky in that they had made enough money in the selling of their other home to put the huge old house in order. There was much to do. The Waldens' four children took a hand in cleaning the place up, removing many years worth of things other people had left behind. Those first two months in the house were a little uncomfortable. There was no kitchen to speak of and Mrs. Walden cooked on a hot plate. Their hot water came from a 30 cup coffee pot. A kitchen was created. The Waldens did all of the work themselves. New wiring went in and the house got a new coat of insulated siding and storm windows to keep out the oncoming cold. Wallpaper was steamed off of walls and ceilings all over the house. Walls were torn out and new ones built. Kitchen fixtures on the second floor were pulled out. Then there was the stripping. Floors, woodwork, the lovely old staircase, the trim around the fireplace, and doors were all refinished. The Waldens spent their evenings and weekends stripping wood. "I got so sick of stripping," said Mrs. Walden, "I would get depressed at times, thinking we would never get it all finished."

The house looks quite different these days. In less than a year the Waldens have turned the old place into their dream house. Although the home is not complete, it has taken on much of its original splendor and some modern touches as well. When finished, the house should be worth upwards of $90,000, according to Mrs. Walden. "Now is a good time to restore. This neighborhood is excellent because of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society. They are helping this area to become what it once was," she said.

The Waldens' beautiful home will be on the Society's house tour this year, to be held on Sunday, May 6, from 1 to 6 p.m. You might want to go out and see their dream house.

OLD HOUSE, NEW KITCHEN. Mrs. Walden, above, enjoys the modern kitchen that she and her husband built. The entire home is a mixture of new and old styles, making it uniquely their own. The gaslight (left) is new, but styled in the way of a much simpler time.

Skinner named; Lakeview Estates roads proceeding

Duane Skinner, who has been a Pontoon Beach trustee since 1975, was re-appointed as a village trustee by the Pontoon Village Board during a special weekend meeting. The new village board president, Paul Bennett, recommended that Skinner fill the vacancy created when Bennett, a hold-over trustee, ran for board president and was elected. Skinner's term expired earlier this month and he did not seek re-election. He will fill the two years left in Bennett's trustee term. The board approved the personnel appointments made by Bennett for one year, including: treasurer, Loretta Skinner; attorney, Robert Hennessey; chief of police, Rosewell Bennett Jr.; health inspector, Ed Tate; sanitation engineer, Ron Hastings, and a new zoning administrator, Bob Vincent, who replaces Carl Hackney in that position. President Bennett said an opening still exists for a village building inspector and will be filled in a future meeting. On a motion by Trustee Raymond Gaudette Jr., the trustees voted unanimously to accept the appointments. Mary Warren, village clerk, was requested to contact C.A. "Bud" MacMillan Jr., director of Coordinated Youth Services for this area, and request that an immediate replacement be named for Donald Patrick, director of the Pontoon Beach-Nameoki area office for Coordinated Youth Services. Patrick has been asked to resign his post, which is in the village hall, because he was said to have made damaging remarks against village officials during the recent campaign when he ran unsuccessfully against Bennett for village president. It was announced that Lakeview Estates road work which was delayed due to construction of sanitary sewers in the village is to be completed within two weeks. The sewer contractor had to dig up some sections of Eastgate Drive which already had been resurfaced, and part of Westgate Drive, where the sewer seals did not seat properly and had to be replaced.

Crossroads recycling aluminum

Recycling of aluminum is an outdoor activity that pays off. Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. pays 20 cents per pound for used aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items.

Reynolds now has 12 recycling mobile unit locations in the St. Louis metropolitan area. At each mobile unit location, the Reynolds mobile unit driver receives used aluminum, weighs it and pays the recycler on the spot.

The Reynolds mobile units schedule during May will include:

Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Nameoki and Pontoon roads, Granite City every Friday, 12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Aluminum also may be redeemed at the Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. plant, 110 Iowa Ave., Belleville, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday through Saturday.

Reynolds pays 20 cents a pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers.

Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing are also worth 20 cents a pound if properly prepared. This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet, and not mixed with cans.

9th birthday

A birthday party was given last week for Jimmy Modlin, who turned nine years old. The party was given by his sister Daria in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Peggy) Modlin, 3236 Rodger Ave.

Among those friends attending were Scott Moore, J.C. Hudson, Bobby Michaels, Jon Lottutter, Brian Sprinkle, Nicky Drago, Mike McConnell, Dennis Winn, Joey Hinen, Jimmy Johannpeter and Wilbert Abbot.

Games were played and prizes won by Scott Moore, Bobby Michaels and Mike McConnell.

ALUMINUM RECYCLING. Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. has added the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, Nameoki and Pontoon roads, to the list of its recycling center for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items. It has raised its payments from 17 to 20 cents a pound. It operates nationwide, with over 850 aluminum collection points, and provides information on specific collection sites through a toll-free telephone number, 800-228-2525.

Rally planned May 8

Make people angry, feminists here suggest

Members of the campus chapter of Women for Women at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville want to make people angry. That's what the organization's president, Colleen Carpenter, hopes to accomplish at a feminist rally May 8 at the university.

"The way to get people involved is to make them angry," she explained Monday afternoon. "There are a lot of women on this campus who believe we don't have any problems. We want to wake some of these people up."

She described women's problems as "political and economic."

"Women have so little real power," she said. "It's important for women to break into power positions (in politics)."

She described the Equal Rights Amendment as an economic issue. She said many women don't think the amendment is necessary because of affirmative action laws. "They may get hired (because of these laws), but they may never get a raise or promotion," she commented.

"We need to develop an economic way for women to receive compensation for their services — even for traditional services," she continued.

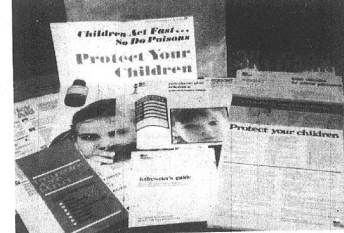

Speakers for the rally will include: Molly Yard, a member of the ERA Strike Force of the National Organization of Women; Shirley Wheatly, of the Illinois department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities; Sheila Ruth, an SIUE faculty member; Sylvia Falconer, a Unitarian minister from Alton; Liz Shanklin, of the National Foundation for Maternity; and Rosanda Richards, a faculty member at SIUE.

Colleen Carpenter described the speakers as representing "a broad spectrum of people active and involved in the women's movement." She said the main theme of their presentations will be support of the ERA.

The rally is one of several events scheduled at the local university in observance of Women's Week, May 7-1. It will be held in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center beginning at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, May 8.

For further information about the rally or other Women's Week events, interested persons may contact Women for Women at 692-2019.

POISON PREVENTION kit has been prepared by the Madison Civil Defense for families with young children. The kit contains numerous items of literature and an antidote for most poisons. The kit is 75 cents and available through the schools and at the Madison City hall.

Poison prevention kits and speaker

Frank Tolite, a physical chemist and retired vice-president with a major pharmaceutical company, will speak and show slides on the hazards of poisoning in around the home.

The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. today in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison, under the sponsorship of the Madison Civil Defense department.

Parents of young children are being particularly encouraged to attend, according to Casimir Krakowiecki, civil defense director for Madison.

A poison prevention kit has been prepared to assist parents in preventing accidents with potential poisonous material around the home. The kits sell for 75 cents each.

School bus hit by truck

Fourteen children on a school bus escaped injury when the bus was struck by the trailer of a tractor-trailer on 19th Street at Rock Road and West 20th Street at 3:40 p.m. Monday.

The driver of the school bus, Gladys Green, 46, Geln Carbon, suffered minor injuries, but declined to be taken to the hospital.

Authorities said the truck, driven by Daniel Giesler, Creve Coeur, Mo., was turning from the southbound lanes of West 20th Street onto eastbound 19th Street and swung wide, the tractor wheels going over the curb on the south side of the street, but the left rear of the trailer struck the left front of the school bus, which was stopped in the westbound lane of 19th Street.

Police talked to the 14 passengers in the bus, ages 13 to 16, and all said they were not injured.

Crowning Touch

PORCELAIN ENAMEL COOKWARE®

Add a touch of Charm To Your Home

Now, for a limited time only, you can purchase beautiful Crowning Touch Porcelain Enamel Cookware at a savings of over 40%!

Crowning Touch ranks among the highest quality cookware lines in the world today. It is manufactured in Spain by skilled Craftsman. The body is constructed of high conductivity carbon steel, coated with two layers of fine porcelain enamel and kiln-fired three times at temperatures in excess of 1500° Fahrenheit. Its many unique features include copper finish bottoms; shock-absorbing stainless steel rims; and color coordinated, compression fitted handles specially designed to conform to the contours of a woman's hand. You can start your set today and save over 40% by using our stamp saving plan.

With each $3.00 purchase, you're entitled to buy a cookware stamp for just 99¢, plus tax. When you've saved 33 stamps, bring them in and you'll receive a beautiful 8-piece strater set in colorful Harvest Blossom or beautiful Blue Garland.

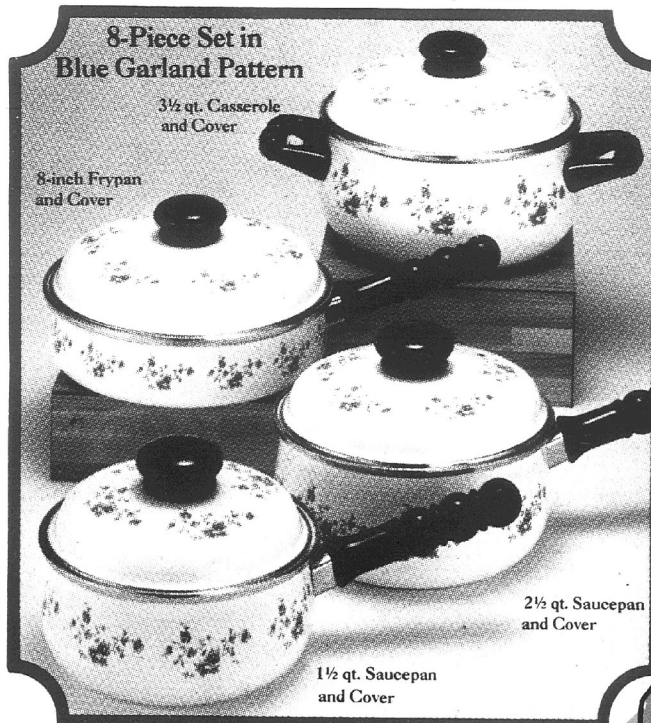

You can add to your starter set by using completer coupons, like the one below. They offer you additional savings . . . savings which you probably won't find elsewhere.
